

See Problems In Rebuilding Main Street

A large street improvement project on Main St., Newmarket, which probably would rival the Toronto subway construction for traffic turmoil and business upset is expected to be started in 1952 or 1953.

At a meeting of town council Monday night, Mayor Vale said that the county roads commission "does not want to take on the burden."

The county is responsible for the centre 18 feet of Main St. It would pay the cost of improving that part and the town is expected to pay for the remaining part, including new curbs, gutters and sidewalks. The mayor said that a firm of consulting engineers would probably be needed for the job.

"Couldn't the county engineer do the job without hiring outside consulting engineers?" asked Reeve Arthur D. Evans.

"I think that when we are doing this job, we should do as Weston did and get outside help," the mayor said. "We should find out now what we are going to do so that we can take care of problems involving the blocking off of the street."

A motion by Reeve Evans and Councillor Rudy Renzius authorized the road and bridge commission to consult with the York County Roads Commission about the project.

ROTARIANS NOT OPPOSED TO DRAWS

At its meeting this week, the Rotary Club of Aurora adopted a motion that it is not opposed to the principle of conducting a legitimate sale of tickets for draw purposes.

The Rotary Club meeting was turned into a discussion of various welfare activities and fund-raising projects which might be undertaken for the benefit of the town. Under the chairmanship of President C. W. Stollary, the discussions were led by Dr. Donald Hutchins, Burt Gilbert, Don Bassett, Gordon Hoffman, Earl Attridge and Harry Sexton.

The main subjects mentioned in the meeting were the Aurora boys' hockey, the Santa Claus parade and social companionship for older residents living in retirement.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS 'HARVEY'

As director of the stage play, Harvey, Joe Dales seeks inspiration from portrait of Elwood P. Dowd and his friend, the Pooka rabbit, Harvey, painted by a Newmarket artist. Mr. Dales is also playing the lead role of Elwood P. Dowd in the presentation which starts tonight at the Newmarket town hall and runs until Saturday night. Show starts each night at 8.15 p.m. Other members of the cast from the Newmarket Dramatic Club are Vera Brown, Don Stuart, Nick Styke, Brian Crane, Jack Struthers, Laura Styke, Ken Learning, Dorothy Bowman, and Ruby Henney. Speed Traps Receive Both Criticism And Support In Council Speed traps at the entrances to Newmarket were bitterly opposed and strongly supported at council meeting on Monday night. Councillor Tom Birrell was the chief critic of the police department's speed trap policy.

"Why do we need to pay the police extra for catching speeders?" asked Mr. Birrell.

"They work overtime to operate speed traps," said Councillor Charles VanZant.

"I think it's going too far," Mr. Birrell said. "We are not proud of making money on speed traps. Policemen should be in the open instead of taking the motorist off guard."

Mayor Jos. Vale said that the speed traps in Newmarket are not as bad as they are in Sharon or Aurora. Mr. VanZant told of an incident when a driver was caught travelling at 82 miles an hour on Davis Drive, within town limits, and "he cried to high heaven."

"I don't think it is necessary to have policemen on Davis Dr.," (Page 5, Col. 8)

ATTEND S.P.C.A. MEET ON CIVIL DEFENCE

Mrs. David Askew, Mrs. Fred Edwards and Mrs. Joseph Waterhouse attended the S.P.C.A. convention in St. Catharines, October 25 to 27 inclusive. These ladies are the president, treasurer and secretary respectively of the North York Humane society.

The main theme of the conference is civil defence with specific reference to the important part local humane societies play in the general set-up. Movies taken during the war showing the activities of the Royal S.P.C.A. will be shown.

BUSINESSMEN'S LUNCH

Newmarket businessmen will lunch together at King George hotel on Monday, Nov. 5, at 1 p.m. All businessmen interested in meeting with their neighbors for an hour or so of "shop talk" about mutual problems are invited to attend.

YOUNG CYCLIST HIT BY CAR AT OAK RIDGES

Bobby Dion, 13, Oak Ridges, received a badly fractured left ankle, cuts on his leg and a deep gash on the back of his head which required 20 stitches, Tuesday evening. He was hit by a car while he was riding his bicycle on Yonge Street, near Oak Ridges school.

He was removed to the office of Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora, and later admitted to York County hospital at Newmarket, where an operation on his ankle may be performed. He will be in hospital for some time. The driver of the car was a woman from Barrie, who was travelling south to Toronto.

Bobby was on his way home from the school about 6 o'clock after helping his father, Leonard Dion, who is caretaker of the school building. Mr. Dion was locking up and his son had gone on home for supper. Bobby is a grade 8 pupil at Oak Ridges school.

VOTE $20,000 FOR MORE WALK REPAIRS

A request for $20,000 to repair more sidewalks in Newmarket was made by road and bridge committee members Frank Bowser and Lorne Paynter at the Monday night council meeting.

The mayor said that the town had already spent enough money on sidewalk repairs but Mr. Bowser said he has been receiving complaints constantly from residents. Last year $10,000 was spent on sidewalks.

"This would be a repair job and not under a local improvement plan," said the mayor. "Under a local improvement plan, sidewalks must be in new areas where there have been no sidewalks before."

"Well built sidewalks are a good investment," said Mr. Birrell. He said that he did not think that the resurfaced walks were standing up well. During the past year there has been extensive resurfacing of walks with asphalt topping but some streets have had new concrete walks.

Although the mayor said he did not want to see the money spent, council passed a motion authorizing the repairs.

C.C.F. CANDIDATE

George Calver, formerly of Mount Albert, was nominated a C.C.F. candidate in the riding of Renfrew South. Many will remember him for his C.C.F. activities in the riding of York North before leaving for Renfrew some three years ago.

BENEFIT GAME
An exhibition game of rugby football will be played at Pickering College athletic field next Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7, between the Pickering first team and Newmarket high school first team. The game, scheduled for 3.30 p.m., will be played to raise money to pay for floodlights in Newmarket's ball park. It will be east of the main college building, on Pickering's new playing field. Tickets are being sold by high school students.

RETURN ROSS LINTON B. OF T. PRESIDENT

Fifty-six members of the Aurora Board of Trade were present at the annual meeting in Trinity Church parish hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30. Ross Linton was re-elected president, and Bert Gilbert was re-elected vice-president. Other officers are: 2nd vice-pres., W. H. Stoddard; sec., A. J. Child; treas., R. D. Heaton. Guest speaker was Harvey M. Dagg, whose subject was "Confidence in Your Town".

NO ACTION TAKEN ON BUS SUBSIDY

No action was taken by town council Monday night on a petition received to subsidize a town bus line discontinued recently. Two hundred and sixty-one residents had signed the petition and sent it to council last week.

Councillor Frank Bowser asked council what it was going to do about it. A special committee had not met with the bus line management to discuss the matter and there was no comment about the legality of a subsidy.

FRIENDS' CHURCH

Last Sunday evening was the second Youth Rally at the Friends' Meeting House, Newmarket. A group of young people from Toronto Central Baptist Seminary brought fine messages in word and song at 7 p.m., followed by a community sing-song at 8.30.

Next Sunday, Nov. 4, a Song Group will be present from Toronto Bible College. The attendance is increasing. Come and join us in these services. All welcome.

Mrs. Arline Link, Island Grove, is off to North Gwillimbury council on Monday afternoon. She plans to ask council to re-open seven roads in Roche's Point.

The roads, she contends, were closed illegally. A complication is that the roads are heavily built upon. Their re-opening would require the moving of several homes, not to mention an endless amount of arbitration to settle claims between buyers and sellers, owners and township.

The fact is, however, that the roads, placed on the Keswick town plan in 1909, end on the shores of Lake Simcoe and according to federal law, roads ending on navigable waters simply cannot be closed. These roads were closed, however, during the resurvey of Roche's Point in 1945.

The re-assessment this year resulted in the discovery of the roads. Apart from the legal aspects of the situation, Mrs. Link contends that the roads should be re-opened to give access to land back from the lake, to provide car and park space which the crowded resort community badly needs.

The history of the roads is a link with Ontario's past. They were originally intended as thoroughfares in what Governor Simcoe planned as the future capital of Upper Canada. Simcoe chose the present site of Roche's Point as a new capital because he thought Toronto too vulnerable to attack by Americans.

He planned to call the new capital Keswick. It would be linked with the Ottawa river on the east and Georgian Bay on the west to provide a safe, inland waterway in event that the Americans ruled Lake Ontario. In time, this plan was discarded. The name Keswick was given to its present owner and the old Keswick became Roche's Point. But the roads still remained, at least on the old Keswick plan. When the village was resurveyed in 1945, the roads were incorporated as building lots, says Mrs. Link, and because roads ending upon navigable waters cannot be closed, she contends the roads were closed illegally.

The roads bear names which are part of the history of the district. One of them is called Capt. May's Road. A dock built by this man is still in use and

STREET LIGHTS EAGLE TO YONGE URGED IN COUNCIL

Street lights on both sides of Eagle St. out to Yonge were proposed by Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette recently. "After all, it is our main artery and it will show where the town is," he said.

Last week Mayor Vale said that it was not practical to put light poles on both sides because the poles would be behind trees on part of the south side of the street. "If we put them in front of the trees they will be a traffic hazard," he said.

"In order to have good lights, I think we should put them on both sides of the road," said Mr. Spillette. "It's the main entrance to town and attracts traffic from the highway."

LIBERALS MEET

There will be an organization meeting of the Newmarket Liberal Association at the Newmarket council chambers in the town hall at 8 p.m. tonight. Plans are to be made for the coming election campaign.

KING STUDENTS WIN FORESTRY PRIZE

Five students of Sacred Heart school, 5th concession of King township, worked hardest in collection of forest leaves to win forestry prize. Left to right, seated, are Michael McClean, 14, Dorothy O'Reilly, 12, Ken Best, 13, Dorothy Adamson, 14, and standing, Rita McCrohan, 12. On wall in background is their leaf collection.

First prize in the Lake Simcoe forestry competition has been won by the Sacred Heart school on the fifth concession of King township. Competing schools were required to reforest a half acre of land in their school section. They were also required to collect forest leaves and were taken on a forest hike by the district forester.

Eight King township schools and Vellore school in Vaughan competed in the contest. Grade eight students of the Sacred Heart school whose teacher is Sister Mary Fleurette, formerly principal of St. John's school, Newmarket, won a $25 prize. They are now competing for a provincial prize and were given an oral test this week by a Department of Lands and Forests official.

Second prize of $15 was won by S.S. No. 2, King school students taught by Miss E. Dennis. Third prize of $10 went to S.S. 16, Crawford school students taught by Mr. Dyer.

Era Flies Cross - Country Air Race

By J. Struthers

The Era and Express flew in a cross-country handicap air race last Saturday, gaining a first-hand impression of the only air race held in the Toronto district since 1928.

We flew with C. M. "Doc" Marshall, of Oak Ridges, in his own aircraft, a two-seater Cornell, on the 200 mile triangular course from Toronto Island airport, to Barrie, to Kitchener and back to the Island. The race was open to any pilots who had a plane with a certificate of airworthiness.

Thanks to Doc Marshall, the trip was pleasant and exciting. Twenty-eight planes of all sizes, shapes and speeds entered the race and most of the competitors, including ourselves, passed over or near Newmarket. One, however, just reached Newmarket and that's all. A Tiger Moth had trouble with carburetor being and made a forced landing on a farm near here, but he was able to take off again and fly back to Toronto.

The race was based, not on comparative speed, but on the performance of the aircraft in its class. It was also a contest in navigation, rather than speed, so if a pilot flew the shortest distance between any two points, a straight line, at his airplane's official cruising speed, he should have won.

Doc Marshall is an experienced pilot and is well known in district flying circles, especially in the Oshawa and Toronto flying clubs; he is a member of both clubs. He owns two aircraft, the Cornell and a Cub. He keeps his planes at Gillespie flying field, Buttonville.

"I would have had the Cub in the race too but couldn't get a C. of A. in time," he said. "I just put a new motor in it recently." Another enthusiast, Howard Brohm of Aurora, would have flown the Cub if it had been ready. Instead, Howard went to the Island airport to watch the race start and finish.

Marshall is an expert mechanic and does his own maintenance work on his aircraft. At Oak Ridges, he has a garage and store on the north west corner of Yonge St. and the highway to King.

"Doc" Marshall, Oak Ridges, climbs into the front cockpit of his Cornell monoplane before the cross country handicap air race from Toronto, to Barrie, Kitchener and back to Toronto on Saturday. The Era and Express went along as observer.

We took off from Buttonville Saturday and flew to the race enclosure at the Island. There all pilots were briefed on the check points at Scarborough, Barrie and Kitchener where ham radio operators flashed back the number of passing planes to the base. Briefings were also given on rules, weather and radio.

Doc flew the Cornell most of the time over 4,000 feet. Some stayed down at 500 feet all the way. "It's a lot smoother up here," he said. Only at the check points and over Doc's service station at Oak Ridges did we come down around 500.

We passed Newmarket when we were directly over Yonge St. at under 4,000 feet. The view showed that it was a much larger community than it was ten years ago. Now housing, particularly on the west side of town, showed that it is fast becoming a "spread out" town. The same can be said about Aurora.

We didn't win against in the race. "Who cares?" said Doc. "It was a lot of fun anyway." Before we took off, he had decided not to race his engine. "We'll just go along as observers and take in the nice scenery," he said. The weather was fine with visibility almost the length of Lake Simcoe. During part of the trip, we listened to the football game over the earphones.

Top winner of the day was Jim Aiken, Kingston. Two women won prizes and sixth prize was won by Earl Bell, formerly of Newmarket.

It is expected that another race will be held in the winter or next spring. Sponsoring organization is the two month-old Canadian Airplane Racing Association which hopes to add midwest airplane racing to its racing features to attract the interest of the general public. The last cross-country was the Tip Top Tallor race, an open competition from Toronto to Winnipeg in 1928.

It was pointed out to the Era and Express that flying or even owning your own plane is not a rich man's luxury. Many of the competitors were wage-earners or owners of small businesses. There is a surprising number of private pilots and enthusiasts in the Newmarket and Aurora districts.

RECORD BREAKING COW

Elsie Texal, artificially bred Holstein heifer owned by Cecil and Glenn Atkinson, Schomberg, has established new world records for yearly production of both milk and butterfat in the junior three-year-old class on twice-a-day milking. She gave 25,929 lbs. milk containing 986 lbs. fat average test 3.80 percent butterfat. Elsie was fed and milked by 22-year-old Glenn.

Elsie almost missed being registered as a purebred and thus her chance to go on official test as Wm. Cooper, Concord, in whose herd she was born, had only one purebred cow, her mother, and only registered the daughter when persuaded to do so by a neighbor. Atkinson's bought her when a few months old.

A year ago, another member of the Atkinson herd, Orchard Vale Laura Texal, set a world record for yearly milk production in the junior two-year-old class on twice-a-day milking by giving 22,005 lbs. milk and 778 lbs. fat.

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA KOLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 4

"Growing Up in the Family," a visual aid sound film, and the use of the radio and a recorder machine in the classroom, were subjects of special interest to Oak Ridges Home and School Association on Oct. 23, at the school. The program was under the convenership of the visual aid committee.

Mrs. Yorke, visual aid convener of the Home and School Dominion Federation, showed the film. It depicted children in various ages at school and at play, taking them through from kindergarten to the adolescent stages of growth. The film showed how they behave, how they work out their problems by themselves, and with the help of parents. Mrs. Yorke read the Home and School creed, stressing the importance of its being read very frequently at meetings of the local association.

If there is any doubt that the use of the radio in the classroom is not commendable, that doubt was easily dispelled by Mr. Anderson, a senior teacher of Oak Ridges school. Using a tape recording, he reproduced two radio programs, science and social studies, that had been heard by his pupils in the classroom. These are authorized by the department of education, as regular classroom features. About 15 minutes each, they made a strong appeal to the audience in their appreciation of the purpose of the radio in the school.

Another enlightening subject was a recording of Mr. Anderson's voice as he dictated a spelling lesson. He pointed out how his pupils could take his dictation by recording, and at the same time he would be able to move about his classroom as his pupils wrote. In this way, Mr. Anderson acts as a supervisor to his own dictation. The method theoretically provides the class with two teachers, in the same person. Mr. Anderson feels he is able to more quickly detect those students who require more individual help. His demonstration made a good impression on the large gathering attending the meeting.

Mrs. S. J. Anderson, the local president, was chairman of the general meeting. In the absence of Mrs. Sprague Troyer, chairman of the visual aid committee, Mrs. Anderson took her place.

A discussion was held regarding curtains for school windows, to be used when showing films during the daytime to the students. The present absence of draw curtains makes it impossible to have films while classes are in session. The use of daytime films would be advantageous to the Home and School, as well, on certain occasions.

It was agreed to build a sectional platform, which could be laid in any of the classrooms when required. When not in use it would be stored.

The association asked for donations of used felt mattresses, which are needed for tumbling exercises, part of the P.T. training.

It was agreed that a film strip be given to the classroom which has the largest representation of parents at the monthly meetings of the Home and School. Gifts of art subjects have been used for the past couple of years or more.

On Tuesday, Nov. 27, the monthly meeting of the association will be under citizenship program.

Lions Evening Pays Off

ST. PAUL'S GUILD PLANS FOR BAZAAR

The annual fall tea and bazaar of the Parochial Guild of St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, will be held in the parish hall on Thursday, Nov. 8, 3 to 5.30 p.m. A novelty of the affair will be the "Touch and Take" table. A nursery will be operated for the small tots.

The group met on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, at the home of Mrs. J. O. Little to complete the details for the tea and bazaar. Conveners include: candy, Mrs. Joseph Peat; home baking, Mrs. J. O. Little; fancy work, Mrs. Roy Lockhart; touch and take, Mrs. Walter Johns; tea tables, Mrs. James Miller; kitchen, Mrs. Bert Budd; nursery, Mrs. M. A. Branner.

A short devotional period closed the meeting. It was led by the president, Mrs. John Dales. A social hour followed when delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

QUESTION FOR NEXT MONDAY:

Are CO-OPs Democratic?

OUR ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION IS YES
FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS

1. Co-Ops have open membership regardless of race, color or creed;
2. Co-Ops recognize that people are of more importance than shares — hence, 1 member, 1 vote;
3. Co-Ops distribute wealth on the basis of patronage, thus providing more purchasing power in the hands of ordinary people.

HIGHLAND MEMBERS
ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet and dance of the Highland Golf club was held at the Greystones, Aurora, on Wednesday, Oct. 24. Cups and trophies for the year were presented. Following the dinner, slides taken at the Sadie Hawkins two-ball held earlier in the summer were shown. They were greatly enjoyed by the members.

Champions for the season are Ada Garfat and Bill Sherwood. Mrs. Garfat won the Fleury cup and Whimster cup as well as the Mary Lynn trophy. Gladys McNeil won the Webb cup and Shirley Cain, the Rose Bowl.

During the summer two members of the club, Vi Dales and Gladys McNeil, won the annual ladies' two-ball held at Scarborough Golf club. Each won a cup which she retains for one year.

Prizes awarded in the men's section included the Leacock cup, Bill Sherwood; Dawson cup, Bill Cross; Century cup, Jim Rutledge; Hart trophy, J. McDermott; and Coronation shield, Harry Boyd.

LOCAL WOMEN HELP
PLAN FOR MEETINGS

Mrs. M. B. Seldon and Mrs. N. L. OBITUARY
Ernest C. Bogart

The first North York student to be awarded a Carter scholarship, and also to win an Edward Blake scholarship, Ernest Charlton Bogart, 53, who received his high school education in Newmarket, died in hospital in Toronto. He was a member of a pioneer family in the district.

Mr. Bogart graduated in arts from the University of Toronto, went on to Osgoode Hall, and was called to the bar in 1924. He had a law practice in Toronto for 27 years.

Mr. Bogart served as alderman for Ward 5 from 1937 to 1944. He was president of Ward 5 Liberal Association in 1933-34. He served overseas in the first World War with the Vickers Machine Gun Company. He later served with a special contingent sent to Russia. He was created a K.C. in 1934.

He was a member of the Ontario Club, Tuscan Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Newmarket; McKinley Lodge, L.O.L.; Dovercourt Lodge, Native Sons of Canada, and the Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

Surviving are his wife, the former Edith Clarkson; six sons, Ernest, Geoffrey, John, Peter, Jim and Humphrey; and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Morris (Beryl), Newmarket, and Mrs. H. B. Guthrie (Helen), of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Howard Cockburn are pictured above following their marriage in Trinity United church, Newmarket. The bride was Lois Muriel Blight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Blight, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cockburn, all of Newmarket.

Women Teachers Meet
At Prince Charles School

The Prince Charles school in Newmarket was the meeting place for the fall conference of region three of the Federation of Women Teachers of Ontario. Miss Fred Bulmer, president of York One Association, and her committee acted as hostesses to the 81 delegates and visitors from the counties of York, Peel and the City of Toronto.

Miss Eva Barnes of Newmarket, a director, conducted a short devotional period based on the conference theme, "Citizenship". Greetings from the president of the Ontario Teachers' Federation, Miss Dorothea Macdonnell, Ottawa, were read by Miss Beryl Wood. Her message directed the delegates' attention to the importance of good citizenship in their new task of curriculum revision.

Mrs. Ruth Clarke, president of F.W.T.A.O., in her letter of greetings, quoted the Royal Commission Report on Education: "To be a good citizen one must be informed about the factors involved in any civic, national or international issue. Great, and indeed paramount, is his responsibility to distinguish reason from emotion, facts from propaganda, and the true from the false. Herein is the compass of all our educational endeavors."

Miss Eva Walker, treasurer of the provincial executive, and convener of the O.T.F., in her remarks opening the conference, stressed the importance of active personal participation in community life.

Mrs. W. G. Johns and social committee of the Home and School club, prepared a luncheon in the parish hall of St. Paul's Anglican church. Head table guests included Mrs. M. B. Seldon, member of the Newmarket School Board; Mr. O. M. MacKillop, inspector of York One, and Mrs. MacKillop; Mr. H. G. Galpin, inspector of York Nine, and Mrs. Galpin; Mr. H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of Newmarket public schools, and Mrs. Jackson; and Mrs. Howard Morton, president of Newmarket Home and School Association, who provided table favors for the luncheon guests.

Greetings were extended to the conference by Mr. Galpin from York Nine, Mr. MacKillop from York One, and Mr. Jackson from Newmarket.

Miss Evelyn Denne was in charge of registration, assisted by Mrs. Lorna Shlyk, Miss A. Graham and Mrs. N. Caswell.

Benefit Rugby For Lights

There's a possibility Newmarket may have another first this year. If present plans are finalized, Newmarket high school gridiron force may perform under the newly dedicated floodlights at the fair grounds. Fred Speer, boys' athletic director at the N.H.S., approached the floodlight committee on the project Monday evening. Mr. Speer indicated the fair grounds would be suitable for night football if the lights were re-aimed and the Northern Electric Co. engineers agree.

In the meantime, C. R. Blackstock, athletic director at Pickering College, and Fred Speer are putting their heads together to aid the floodlight fund. On Nov. 7 Pickering College seniors and Newmarket high school gridirons will stage an exhibition game in aid of the floodlight fund. The game will be played in the afternoon and if it draws enough attention from the fans floodlight football will be considered.

Plans for the game are now being worked out, and tickets should be available for the game in the near future. Ward Cornell on the Pickering College staff, who does the broadcasts of the Western games on the C.B.C., will carry a running

SITTS ON DISPLAY

Playing Coach Al Shewchuk isn't wasting any time in sending his Spitfires into battle. The Spits will square off against Stouffville "Clippers" here tonight (Thursday) in an exhibition contest. The teams will move over to Stouffville for a Saturday night tilt. The 51-52 edition of Clippers is rated over last year's team, as are the Spitfire. Come and draw your own conclusions.

HEADS KETTLEBY TEAM

Ray Rogers, Kettleby's busy softball and hockey executive, was elected president of the Kettleby Hockey Club at an organization meeting held Tuesday evening. Doug Terry was named vice-president, Bill Wassink treasurer. Bill Hodgins is manager and Bill Attridge returns as coach for a second term. Trainer is Stan Terry. The team has been entered in the six-team Peel-York Hockey League. First practice session is planned for tonight (Thursday).

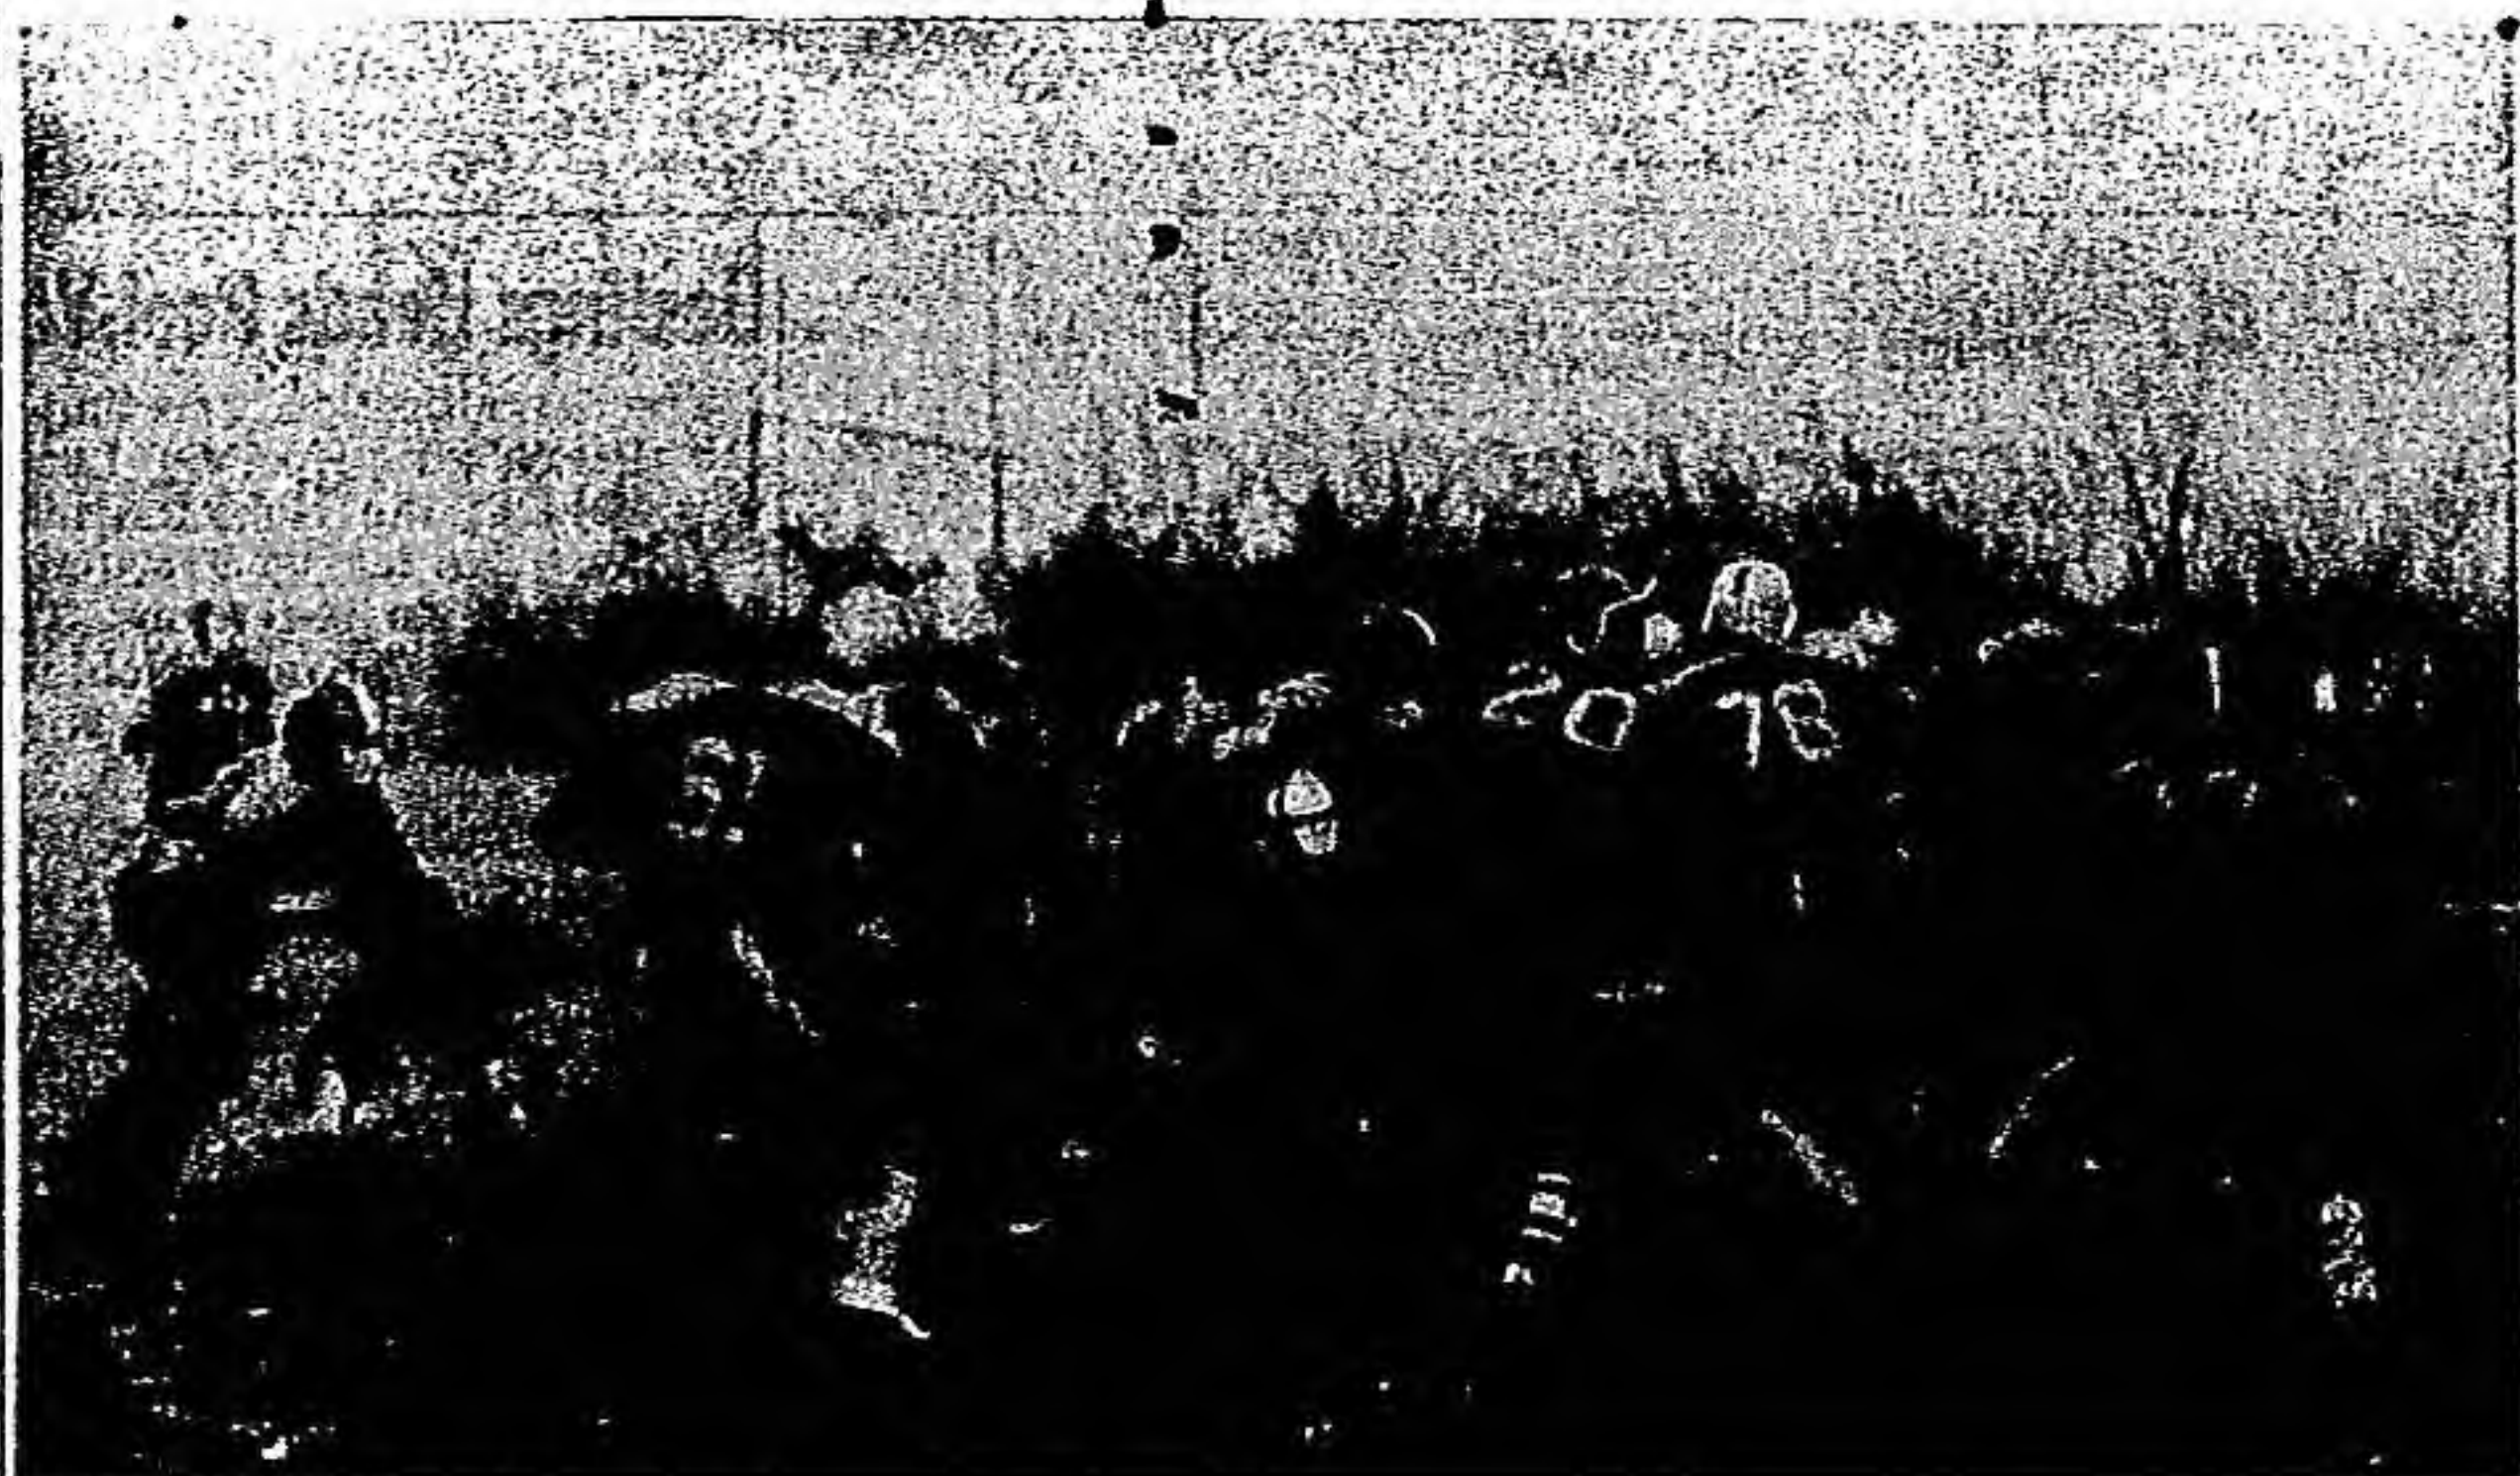

comment of the game, the idea being to publicize football and explain to the fans what goes on and why on the gridiron. All proceeds of the Nov. 7 game will be earmarked for the floodlight fund

GLAMOUR ON THE GRIDIRON

Ingredients in today's gridiron show are football, cheers and glamour. N.H.S. had all three in large portions and thusly retained the North York football championship in a gruelling play-off series with Aurora. The glamour and cheers were provided by the N.H.S.'s senior cheer leaders seen above, l. to r. Joyce Leadbetter, Sherith Pipher, Nancy Jo Waterhouse, Eleanor Clements. Photo by Haskett

N.H.S., PICKERING IN ACTION

Only the white helmet of Bob Hanna, Newmarket high school player, can be seen as he plunges through the Pickering College line in a game at the Pickering field on Wednesday, last week. He carried the ball to the Pickering eight yard line and on the following play, Newmarket went over for a touchdown. Newmarket high school won the game 17-10. On the extreme left, Ron Connell, Newmarket, puts a fine cross body block on Dick Fraser, Pickering. In background behind them is Pickering player, Bert Kellock. Other players are Taylor Gilbert, 61, Newmarket; Jim Smart, 20, Pickering; Ray Ingram, 78, Newmarket; Jerry Hugo, 79, Newmarket and Barry Moffat, 17, Pickering. There will be an exhibition game between these two teams on the Pickering College field, east of the building, next Wednesday afternoon, November 7 at three o'clock. All proceeds from the game will go toward paying for floodlights at Newmarket's athletic park on the old fair grounds.

Time For CHANGE

By HOWARD MORTON

It is now time that your car be prepared for the heavy demands that will be made upon it during the coming winter season.

We have the men, equipment, stock and know-how to inspect, service and prepare your equipment for trouble free operation during the winter season.

Let us drain the crankcase of dirty worn out lubricants and replace them with free flowing Havoline.

Let us lubricate your car with Texaco Mafak, the lubricant that slush and water cannot wash off; the lubricant that does not thin out under pounding; the lubricant that never becomes hard or solid in a bearing or fitting.

Let us drain the transmission and differential and replace worn-out summer grades with Texaco Gear Tak. This lubricant stands up under the most severe pressures and, even in sub-zero weather, will flow freely around gears and pinions.

Replacing these gears and pinions because of improper lubrication is very expensive. Let us check your cooling system and fill up with a permanent type Anti-Freeze. This is the time of year when the most severe damage is caused because of weak or dirty Anti-Freeze. In the dead of winter you expect freezing and act accordingly. But at this season we are all inclined to take a chance for another day and often damaged radiators, motor-blocks or -heads are the expensive result.

If your battery has been in service for a year or more now would be a good time to consider trading it in on a new high-powered General Motors Battery. You have probably noted that we are allowing five dollars for your old battery on a new General Motors battery. That offer still stands and it is real value.

Now is a good time to consider new Goodyear tires - Trade Grip for Slip - remember the traction built into a tire is well worn out at 20,000 miles and we will allow you a nice price for your old casings if they are not cut or broken. For off the road operations we have those marvelous Studded Snow Grips.

These are just a few of the things we want to do for you. We have modern check equipment which will check ignition, carburetion, front-end alignment etc.

By the way we have a few household thermometers to keep you informed on just how cold it really is. Mention this ad at Mount Albert or Newmarket as long as they last and receive one absolutely free with the compliments of Morton Bros., Limited, your local Pontiac - Buick Dealer.

News About NHS

The Red Feather football games attracted nearly 19,000 cheering fans on Friday last. Two busloads of fans went from Newmarket to see Kirkland Lake play Peterborough and Hamilton Cathedrals play Stamford. The first game was a closely fought see-saw battle in which Kirkland Lake eked out an 11-8 win. The Hamilton team ran wild, piling up a 20-0 lead to win the game. The 400 cheerleaders were very colorful, each displaying school colors.

On Friday afternoon, Newmarket Seconds played Pickering Seconds and went down to a 12-0 defeat. P. C. had a strong line, averaging about 175-180 pounds, and this was the deciding factor in the victory.

On Monday, Oct. 29, Newmarket played the Aurora squad in the second game of the best of three series for the North York football championship. Newmarket was losing at half time, 5-1, but the final score read 8-5 in favor of Newmarket. Taylor Gilbert was credited with the only Newmarket touchdown. Last week, a drive was held for UNICEF, an organization of the United Nations. The total collected by N.H.S. was $45. Among the classes, IIA came first with $5.99 and grade 13 second with $5.37, and I2A third with $4.21.

This year the students of N. H. S. will again strive to put out their year book, "The Phoenix". The editor as appointed by the "Literary Society" is Jerry Hugo. The magazine was a great success last year, and with the help and co-operation of the students we are hoping to have even a better one this year.

On Friday night of this week, approximately 190 lambs will be led to the slaughter. When we say that we mean initiation day and the lambs are six classes of grade nine. The get-up is almost the same as last year with a baby's toy and a six quart basket added.

Pee-Wees Lose Second, And Series To Petrolia

The O.B.A. trail came to an end last week for Optimist pee-wee baseballers. They lost a 6-3 decision to Petrolia. It was the first time that a Newmarket team has reached the O.B.A. Ontario finals. Our mighty atoms went out battling.

They had a shaky start when Petrolia spliced together five runs on a pair of walks and a string of three hits off Jack Cain's pitching. The Optimists managed their first run of the series (they lost here 6-0) in the third as Bill Mair, playing second base, whammed a triple and trotted home on infield error on Bill Cain's infield roller.

In the sixth they counted twice. Again it was Bill Mair who provided the spark. After Pat Ewing had clipped off a single and with two out Bill Mair hammered a long home run. That was the extent of the Newmarket scoring.

A last ditch first of the seventh rally on Jack Cain's start-off double and Francis Lewis' single pattered out before the tying runs could be safely tucked away. Jack Cain claimed four strike-out victims and allowed nine hits. Petrolia's southpaw ace, Ron Winder, whiffed 14 while the Optimists swingers got to him for seven safeties.

Newmarket: B. Ketter, P. Ewing, D. Zogala, W. Mair, B. Cain, J. McGuire, K. Casavoy, J. Cain, F. Lewis, D. Jackson, D. McComb, W. Crouch, B. Walker, G. Garrett.

HEADS SPECIALTY HOCKEY

Wayne Manning was elected president of the Office Specialty Hockey Club at an organization meeting Monday. Bruce Andrews was named vice-president and Pete Neufeld treasurer. A. H. Topham is manager and Harold Craddock coach. The team is entered in the Newmarket & District Hockey League and can draw players from all the town industries. First practice is expected to be held Saturday.

ASSISTANT TRAINER

Fred Dillman, who knows the hockey dressing room procedure backwards and forwards, was named assistant trainer of the Newmarket Spitfires Hockey Club last week. Pete Preston was previously named trainer. At a Sunday meeting of the Spitfire executive Frank Johnston was chosen to head the advertising committee. Other members are Mickey Smith, Fred Dillman and Norm Bennett. Dick Rupke was named to head the transportation committee.

MAJOR OPERATION

George Wilson underwent a major operation in Toronto last week. His condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Mt. Albert, Vanderhof Join Newmarket, District Loop

The organization meeting of the Newmarket Town League was held at the arena last Wednesday. The league will be known as the Newmarket and District Hockey League. Newmarket will have two teams, Office Specialty and Town, and there'll be two teams from the countryside, Mount Albert and Vanderhof.

Officers are: pres., Ray Smith; vice-pres., Ken Ross of Mount Albert and Harry Thoms; sec-treas., Murray Edgar, Ravenshoe. Team representatives are Harry Lavender (Vanderhof), Horace Berwick (Mount Albert), Peter Neufeld (Office Specialty), Mel Stickwood (Town).

Double-headers are planned for each Monday. No O.H.A. or O.R.H.A. will be allowed to play in the league and players' lists must be in the hands of the executive by Dec. 1.

Town Team Looks Strong

The town team in the Newmarket and District Hockey League elected officers Tuesday. They are: pres., Geo. Hudson; manager, Mel Stickwood; coach, Harry Thoms; capt. and assist., Gord. Bone. Sixteen players reported to Coach Thoms for practice Tuesday.

The towners appear to have a strong contender. List of trainees included ex-Spittfires Gord. Bone, Cliff Gunn, ex-Rockets Bob "Basher" Groves, Howard Peterman, plus last year's town leaguers Bill Ingram, Aubrey Smith, Alan Wrightman, Murph Jelley, Bob Smith, Ted Greenwood, Harold Gwyn, Ivan Bray, Jack Smith, Lloyd Cudmore, Norm Lighthouse, Ken Groves and Don. Ballsdon.

Mount Looks For Coach

Mount Albert Hockey Club met last Friday. Taylor Beal and Lloyd McQuaid were named co-managers. Mr. McQuaid will also act as treasurer. The executive hopes to secure a Newmarket man as coach this week.

Ten players attended the initial practice in the Newmarket arena Friday, including goal-keeper Geo. Young, defencemen Ross Draper, Murray Cupples, forwards Dave Couch, Elmer Paisley, Jim Cupples, Art Gibeau, Horace Berwick, Lloyd Moorhead and Murray Edgar. The team plans an exhibition game Friday at 8 p.m. in the Newmarket arena, with Kettleby of the Peel-York hockey league.

FOURTH TEAM IN AURORA

The Hotelmen will be the fourth team in the Aurora Town Hockey League. Collis Leather "Tanners" have dropped out from lack of players. "We'll use what players are available at Collis' plus three or four more around town to round out the Hotelmen's roster," reports sponsor Jim Murray. Teams previously entered were Mickey Sutton's Ditch Diggers, Merchants and Vanderhof "Victory Flyers".

The four teams plan a practice session in the Aurora arena Friday 7 to 9 p.m. and an early start on the schedule is expected.

Another page was added to Newmarket's sports history this summer when Optimists pee-wees reached the all-Ontario O.B.A. finals. Their feat was something that no other Newmarket baseball team has accomplished. To reach the finals they eliminated Ajax and Merritton. They lost in the finals to a strong Petrolia band 6-0 here but went out gamely 6-3 in the return game. Back row, l. to r., Frank Hollingsworth, coach; Jack Cain, pitcher; Bill Cain, catcher; John McGuire, third base; Bradley Walker, util.; Pat Ewing, outfield; Don. Zozolo, first base; Don. Warner, chairman Optimists' Boys Work Committee; front row, l. to r., Brian Million, outfield; Dave McComb, util.; Wayne Crouch, outfield; Bob Keffer, short stop; Genne Garrett, util.; Ken. Cassavoy, outfield; Francis Lewis, second base. Bat-boy (front) Larry Keffer.

HASHMAN AWARD

Hugo For Football

Newmarket and Aurora Highs have been slugging it out on the gridiron for North York supremacy. Armed with a grand-stand, quarter-back's ticket, fully endorsed by football experts Fred Speer, C. R. Blackstock, Lou Lanier, Frank Gregoire, Ward Cornell and Barney Jackson, your Hashman has delved into the gridiron statistics to come up with this week's Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass winner.

Outstanding figure in the gruelling set was Fred Speer's triple threat quarter-back, Jerry Hugo. Because of Hugo's inspired quarter-backing, kicking, passing and ball lugging, the North York Trophy remains put on the N.H.S. shelves. In the two-game set, Hugo rolled up a 16-point total, via a touchdown, a field goal and eight singles. That's the reason we're nominating Jerry Hugo for the award this week.

No Foolin' Sez Rowntree

Coach Charlie Rowntree and Dave Grinnell. Centres are Andy Closs Jr., Ron Knowles, Gerald Chapman, Keith Collings, Joe Gasko, Bobbs Cook, Freeman West. Right-wingers are Bob Forhan, Grant Edwards, John Richards, Dave Dinner, Dave Hart. The team will work-out again tonight at 7 p.m.

Optimists Resume Hockey

Optimists again plan to operate the six-team N.H.L. hockey league this winter. The teams will follow last year's successful league and will include all players of bantam and midget age. The Optimists also plan to sponsor a midget entry in the O.H.A. playdowns.

To wind up the baseball season officially, the Optimists will play hosts to the pee-wee baseball team which reached the Ontario finals. Each player will receive a crest and will be guest at an Optimists' dinner meeting.

Hastings Heads Peel-York

The organization meeting of the Peel-York Hockey League was held at the Nobleton arena Sunday. The league has jumped from a four to six teams. They are Kettleby, King, Nobleton, Bolton, Schomberg and Kleinburg.

Officers are: pres., Elgin Hastings, Schomberg; vice-pres., Arthur Hill, Nobleton; sec-treas., Bill Bredon, Schomberg; team reps., Ted Huston (Bolton), Len Shropshire (King), Alex Shaw (Kleinburg), Ken Goodfellow (Nobleton), Ray Rogers (Kettleby), and Albert "Pike" Cabell (Schomberg).

The league plans single games on Wednesdays and double-headers Fridays, giving each team a game a week at the Nobleton arena. The schedule will start on Nov. 7. The delegates agreed that no team can go beyond a seven-mile radius to draw players.

Gals Grid For Hockey

Aurora Ladies, who won the North York championship last winter, are all set to defend their laurels this winter. The club's well attended organization meeting was held in the Aurora arena Monday evening. Officers are: Ken Rose, coach; Doug Harrison, manager; Edna Saigel, sec-treas.

The team's first practice will be held in the Aurora arena tonight (Thursday) at 9 p.m. All interested are asked to be on hand. It is hoped to outfit the team in double-blue sweaters. Both Sutton and Keswick are definitely entering the North York Ladies Hockey loop again this year and it is suggested that Newmarket should have a girls' team to round out the four-team circuit.

Rugby King For A Weekend

Toronto may have its big football "featcha of the year" on Saturday next when Argonauts of Toronto meet the Roughies from Ottawa, but North York has its own football attraction the same day when the Little Big Four championship will be decided at Aurora St. Andrew's College.

The opposition will be Trinity College from Port Hope, and Hop Holmes' lads will be gunning for their first title in six seasons. Both clubs are undefeated. Trinity took Ridley 33-12, and Upper Canada 8-0. The Andreams won over Ridley 17-15 and U.C.C. 13-12. Both St. Andrew's victories were a way from home, and Trinity won both theirs at home so on this factor alone, S.A.C. should be slight favorites although Coach Holmes will go into the final plagued with injuries.

Last Saturday's win over Ridley was a thriller as Ridley led 15-0 with 20 minutes to go, and St. Andrew's had to take to the air for a Merriwell finish.

It was the first time in 26 years that St. Andrew's have won a game on the Ridley gridiron. The battle looms as more than ordinary for both teams as the Headmasters are brothers and friendly rivals. Ken Ketchum of St. Andrews would take particular delight in seeing the first from brother Phil Ketchum's Port Hope school bite the dust. The game starts at 2:30 and a big crowd will be on hand. Town and gown will fraternize as the welcome mat is out at S.A.S. as usual. The football is top-flight too.

Charlie Rowntree laid down the law Tuesday night when 38 attended the practice of Aurora juniors. Rowntree has plenty to

N.H.S. Wins Senior Grid Cup With Two Wins Over Aurora

The North York Secondary Schools Football trophy stays put on the shelves at the N.H.S. this year. Fred Speer's gridiron force came through with an 8-5 win over Aurora's double-blue at the Pickering College field Monday to take the league's senior championship in two straight heats.

In contrast to the Aurora match last week 29-2, N.H.S. had to knuckle right down to business to hack out a win. Frank Gregoire's team jumped off to a 5-1 first quarter lead as Ron Geddes spun over N.H.S. goal-line on a pitch out. The Aurora TD followed a boot for a single point by Jerry Hugo.

That Aurora edge loomed large as the teams fought through a gruelling scoreless second and third quarters. Then came the eventual fourth quarter and the break that gave N.H.S. the win. A costly Aurora fumble on their 40-yard line and Newmarket's recovery started a march to the 12 yard line. Hugo chucked a short pass for Taylor Gilbert. Gilbert didn't get it. The Aurora safety man appeared to jostle him. The pass was ruled completed for a TD. It gave the N.H.S. a 6-5 edge. Aurora were cooped up in their own territory, Jerry Hugo lifting the score to 8-5 on well-toed boots over the dead-line.

Both line-ups were star studded. If there was singling out to be done Jerry Hugo, Jack Vance and Don Trivett were it for the winners; Dave Harrison, Dave Wilson and Ron Geddes for Aurora.

LOSE FIRST TO PICKERING
A pair of last half touchdowns strikes enabled Pickering College seconds to gain an 11-0 win over Newmarket High school seconds last Friday afternoon in an exhibition football contest. The loss brought to an end an unbeaten season for Fred Speer's team. Pickering moved into the second half nursing a precarious 1-0 lead on Bob King's single.

Pickering opened with a show of power in the second half. Bruce Dobson and Dave Stewart hit for Pickering TD's. Line-man Ken Wheeland, quarter Wayne Robinson and half Ron Lockhart were N.H.S. strong points. Dave Stewart, Bob King and Bruce Dobson powered the Pickering offensive.

Spits Tune Up For Wars

Playing Coach Al. Shewchuk has been driving Spittfires hard the past week. Twenty-two candidates appeared for the initial work-out last Wednesday and as many as 25 have been out on several occasions.

Included are five net-minders, eight defencemen and 12 forwards. Candidates include 10 of last year's Spits; net-minder Joe Tunney, defencemen Al. Shewchuk and "Pink" Tunstead; forwards Bill Johnston, Don Smith, Norm Legge, "Swiftly" Todd, Ken Thoms, Myles McInnis and Russ Forlar.

To give the Spits a district flavor, eight former Aurora players appeared for a look-see: goal-keepers Harry Frogley (Indians), one-time Hersey sub-goaler, Ken Tupling (Bears), defencemen Bill McGhee (Indians), Lowell Waller (Junior D's) and forwards "Orlie" Thoms, Grant Firth, Don Marchant, Harry Morrison and Bill Patrick.

Newcomers are Jack Andrews, a rugged defenceman with Toledo "Mercurys" of U.S. league last year, from Aurora; Bill

Hedger Ladies' Prexy

Approximately 50 players representing Barrie, Midland, Orillia and Newmarket attended the annual banquet of the Barrie and District Ladies' Softball League at the Legion hall Friday. Following the banquet, officers were elected.

Frank Courtney, president for the past three years, was re-nominated but said he would retire. He was succeeded by Douglas Hedger, long-time umpire and coach of Barrie. Clifford Davis of Midland was re-elected vice-president and (Miss) Hazel Wright of Barrie was re-named secretary-treasurer. Each team will appoint a member to the executive in the spring. Feature of the evening was the presentation of the league trophy to Midland "Monarchs", this year's champions. The evening concluded with a dance.

JIM RICH WINS DOLL

Jim Rich of 7 Ontario St. E., Newmarket, held the lucky ticket on the money doll raffled off by the Newmarket Junior Ladies' Softball team. The draw was made last Saturday at the arena. Coach Fred Dillman and Manager George Watt wish to thank all the ticket purchasers.

Archers On The Range

Archers came from all over Ontario for the annual convention of the Hunting and Field Archers of Ontario held at Newmarket recently. The Newmarket Archers, formed in 1950 by Orla Larsen, staged a deer shoot at Glenville. Archers shot at painted cardboard deer targets like the one above. At the extreme right is Orla Larsen who drove from Kingston for the shoot. There has been talk of making the deer shoot an annual event at Newmarket which will attract many archers from all parts of the province. In a few days bow and arrow enthusiasts will be deer hunting in the north woods. Several from Newmarket will be going in a large hunting party to Restoule.

Court Of Revision Hears Sharp Exchanges While Assessor Defends Rulings

The council chamber was crowded on Monday night, October 29, when a Court of Revision heard appeals from private owners and a large number of industries and employers of labor. The Court of Revision was composed of Mayor Bell, chairman, the deputy-reeve, James Murray, and Councillors Corbett, Davies and Fielding. Assessor E. R. Good was present to answer questions and defend his rulings. The session lasted from 8 o'clock till midnight.

Thirty-eight appeals were listed for hearing, but a number of these were from firms where more than one assessment was involved. Such an instance was that of Mr. A. A. Cook, who appealed not only in regard to the assessment on his home property, but also in respect of his other business properties.

Individual appeals were heard first and the industries later. The bulk of the appeals were adjourned until November 6, when the Court of Revision will deliberate in private and issue its decisions. There will not be, it is understood, any public announcement of these decisions.

There can be little doubt that Assessor E. R. Good stirred a "hornet's nest" around his head of a ferocity unprecedented in the history of assessments in the town of Aurora. But he defended his decisions in a way that showed competence and understanding of his job.

Here in his own words are what he told those who appealed against his rulings: "Rates are set by the Municipal Board and it is the duty of assessors to carry out instructions."

That is what he told Mr. Ross Linton, who made a strong attack on the assessor while appealing against the large assessment increase applied to the company he represented.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Linton said that he did not think it was "a decent thing on the part of an assessor to come in from another municipality and put into operation a new system of taxation". The assessor replied that the system was not new. He had adhered to the instructions set for him and had carried out his duties in accordance with assessment bases that were intended to realize equality for all.

There was another somewhat hectic bout between Mr. Lorne Cousins and Mr. Good, when Mr. Cousins submitted his appeal; and further fiery exchanges between the assessor and Mr. Cook. In regard to one claim by Mr. Cook the assessor commented that "Mr. Cook appeared to have been enjoying a state of 'no change' since the year 1931."

Before the reading of a long document by Mr. Lees Ormes on the subject of municipal assessment, and the appeal of the Collins leather company, Mr. Ormes asked the assessor if the principles he had worked on were law, or whether such principles were applicable at the will of assessors?

To this Mr. Good replied that the principles were law. "We, as assessors, are duty-bound to assess," he said, "and the Court of Revision can do as it wishes."

On a question asked by Mr. Linton as to whether it would not have been better for the assessor to have conferred with council as assessment processes continued, the assessor replied that no municipal council had any right to advise assessors. He repeated that it was the duty of assessors to follow the rules laid down for their work.

Appealing on behalf of his firm, Mr. George Baldwin admitted that assessments were previously "too low; now they were too high."

Protesting assessments made, the Hart manufacturing representative alleged that the assessor had said he would see that industry carried the largest burden. This charge was replied to at a later stage in the sitting when Mr. Good declared that industries are still assessed lower than homes.

Concerning his appeals, the assessor told Mr. R. H. Corner that he and his son had the two best rooms in the block where they were situated. "That's what you think," retorted Mr. Corner. His appeal was adjourned until November 6.

(We shall review the Court of Revision proceedings editorially in our next issue, Ed).

THURSDAY, THE FIRST DAY OF NOVEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

EDITORIALS

TAKE A LOOK AT THIS!

We have consistently opposed the town planning board in the belief that it is not necessary for a small town such as Aurora; and for the further reason that the council possesses the necessary power to proceed in zoning off areas where necessary.

A planning board means an expense to the rate-payers, who have to pay the full costs of its operations. The Aurora planning board came into existence in the year 1947. Little, if anything, was done that year, and as far as we are aware no expenses were incurred.

A different story can be told of the years that have followed; and we think we are doing a service to the citizens of Aurora in informing them on the official figures we have of the cost of the planning board. For it is the taxpayers who have to meet the bills.

In 1948 the planning board consultant was paid $812 in fees.

In 1949 the planning board consultant was paid $1,292.59 in fees.

In 1950 the planning board consultant was paid $737.50 in fees.

In 1951 the council budgetted $1,000 to the planning board.

Besides these expenses paid to a consultant who resides outside of Aurora, over $1,000 was paid for an aerial map which hangs on the wall of the council chamber, and has the appearance of an old parchment that has been dug up from the middle ages.

The consultant is paid $10 an hour for "professional" services, and $5 per hour for "technical time". What the difference is between professional and technical time we do not know.

These, of course, are not the total costs arising out of the operations of the planning board. Consider the time that has been given by members of council in discussing planning board matters. Such time has to be paid for by the taxpayers. A large slice of council time was taken up last year, and a much larger amount this year, in trying to make sense out of the mysterious phrasing of planning board proposals.

Even the town solicitor himself, fortified by long legal experience, has admitted his difficulty in appreciating clearly much of the zoning by-law now under consideration.

Figure it out, if you can, what useful purpose the planning board has been to Aurora? Meantime the taxpayers continue to pay the costs.

MAYOR BELL'S REBUFF

Thus far members of council have accepted Mayor Bell's rebuff in silence. Not a single one of them has risen from his seat at the council table to protest against his personal veto of a resolution which was passed unanimously on July 24, 1950. Such a veto is an affront not only to council but to the citizens also, whose right to full council news is being denied them.

As we have pointed out on several occasions, Mayor Bell's veto is a restriction on the freedom of the press. Council has accepted his rebuff in silence. We wonder if the taxpayers and citizens of Aurora will do likewise?

A NECESSARY BY-LAW

As far back as March of this year considerable discussion took place at council regarding a hawkers' and pedlars' by-law, and members agreed that such a by-law was necessary. A by-law was prepared and given a first reading on June 4. Since that time nothing has been done about it, and it seems to have gotten lost among the leaves.

The only point that needed to be settled was the amount of licence fees to be charged. When that was agreed upon all that remained was to give the by-law final readings, which wouldn't take up more than ten minutes. We wonder why such a necessary by-law has been forgotten? Is there some snag somewhere? Something alive below the surface?

Our storekeepers have to pay licences to sell merchandise which any out-of-town pedlar can traffic on the streets without let or hindrance. This is so obviously unfair to our own tax-paying merchants that we suggest it is high time the inequality should be rectified.

FRUITS OF ADVERTISING

It gave us great satisfaction to hear from an Aurora merchant that the advertisement he placed in our columns had attracted a record crowd of shoppers from adjoining communities. Since he had not previously enjoyed the sight of so many out-of-town buyers in his store he was naturally impressed with what he described as "the pulling power of the Era and Express".

Since the merchandise he was selling was of the highest class, and certain to give satisfaction to buyers, the advertisement had served a dual useful purpose. It had increased the business of the merchant and it had given satisfaction and pleasure to buyers who, but for the advertisement in the Era and Express, would not have known that their requirements could have been so fully met.

Such are the fruits of advertising. Good advertising makes known what merchants have to sell, and buyers are enabled to know where they can get what they want. Such are the services of advertising, when it is placed in the right medium. Advertisers have proved again and again "the pulling power of the Era and Express".

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Aurora Lawn Bowlers Elect Officers For 1952 Season Names Mentioned For Council

At the Aurora lawn bowling club annual meeting on Thursday night, October 25, they were saying it had been a good season. The club has had its share of tournament successes during the season that is now, unfortunately, drawing to a conclusion. The club has entertained many visitors from far and near, and they have been unanimous on one subject, namely, that the Aurora greens have been kept in beautiful shape.

Last year veteran Harry Teasdale was chairman of the green's committee, and all acknowledge that he did a good job. This year he has retired from that position and his place has been taken by William Matheson, having received a unanimous vote of appointment. The club could have chosen no better man for the job than Bill Matheson.

Among those who attended the annual meeting of the club were Mayor Alex Bell, R. H. Corner, G. Pattenden, Leo Potter, Cliff Barnardo, W. Morris, Dr. N. G. Madge, Herb Thompson, Irwin Watts, H. Teasdale and J. G. Sinclair.

Election of Officers

The president of the club, Mr. G. Pattenden, after taking the chair, asked the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Cliff Barnardo, to read the minutes of the previous meeting and to present the financial report. These having been received and adopted, the secretary - treasurer requested that an auditor be appointed to check the books and accounts. Mr. Herb Thompson was appointed auditor.

Mr. Barnardo was unanimously re-elected secretary-treasurer of the club for the 1952 season, a vote of thanks being accorded to him for his past services.

President Pattenden and vice-president Potter having expressed a wish to retire from these offices, both having served two-year terms, the meeting elected Mr. W. Morris to the presidency, and Mr. R. H. Corner vice-president. Bill Morris, who is one of the senior members of the club, will be serving his first year as president. Harry Corner held office as president some years ago.

In retiring from office, George Pattenden and Leo Potter said their interest in the welfare of the club would be as strong as ever, and both would do whatever they could to promote its progress. A vote of thanks for their past services was unanimously passed.

The thanks of the club were extended to Harry Teasdale for his services during the past season as chairman of the greens committee.

The constitution of the greens and games committees were as follows: Green committee: W. Matheson (chairman), Harry Teasdale, N. G. Madge and Leo Potter. Games committee: G. Pattenden (chairman), Irwin Watts and Herb Thompson.

During discussion on projects for the improvement of the club properties, and the provision of necessary amenities, it was resolved by the meeting to request a grant from the Recreation Commission, from its recreational funds, to meet some of these needs, and the secretary was instructed to place this request by letter to the chairman of the commission.

"The Melancholy Days"

The closing down of the lawn bowling season reminds us of some very beautiful lines of poetry which were recited to us by our neighbor, Mr. James Wilson, as he was busy sweeping up the fallen leaves at the front of his home on Spruce street the other day. The lines are by Longfellow and are as follows: "The melancholy days are come, The saddest of the year; With wailing winds and naked woods And meadows brown and sere; Heaped in the hollows of the grove, The autumn leaves lie dead; They rustle to the ebbing gust And to the rabbit's tread."

Mr. Wilson recalled these lovely lines from memorials of college days. He was regretting that he does not find it so easy now to memorize what he likes, and we share this disability with him. There are compensations, however. One of them is the ability to revive what Hazlitt called the "mental stores of other years." This Mr. Wilson did in quoting to us, easily and impressively, the lines we have just revived.

Taxi Conversation

In a taxi-conversation with our driver the other day, who happened to be William Gleave of the North End Taxi, we learned that his brother, G. H. Gleave, who served from 1942 to 1945 in World War II, holding the rank of corporal, enlisted in the R.H.L.I. in June of this year and is slated to serve in north-west Germany at an early date. He is at present in camp at Milchaire, Quebec.

Bill himself had a similar period of service in the last war. Commenting on the unusual name, "Gleave," Bill told us that it had been found that there were no more than three families in Canada with the same name and none of them was related.

His father came to Canada in the year 1910, from Chester, England. Chester is one of the oldest and most historic cities in the Old Country. It was built by the Romans and some of the city walls still stand intact, a testimony to the enduring art of the builders of a great empire. Bill's parents reside just outside of Aurora.

The 50-50 club of the Aurora United church is enjoying great prosperity in membership and in its objectives. In conversation with Earl Scott, vice-president of the club, we are glad to hear that the paid-up membership now amounts to 125. We remember when we first wrote a few notes about the club that its membership was then 50.

"Don't Darken My Door" is the title of the play that is to be presented on Friday, Nov. 9. And where is it to be presented? It gives us especial pleasure to say that the play will be performed in Aurora's community centre, the Mechanics' hall. It will also give especial pleasure to many Aurora old-timers, some of whom were prominent in plays presented at the Mechanics' hall in years gone by.

We have little doubt about the Mechanics' hall being thronged on the evening of Friday, Nov. 9. Make a note of the date. It will be an historic occasion, the reopening of Aurora's community hall to the citizens.

Grover Gage is the president of the prosperous 50-50 club of Aurora.

Names Mentioned

Among a number of names we have heard mentioned during the past few days, for likely nomination on Friday, Nov. 30, are L. P. Evans, W. H. (Bill) Case, Cameron Loblaw, Jim Wilson (of Wilson's Hardware), Doug Harrison and Stew Patrick. There are other likely candidates whose names will be announced later.

Mr. Evans has had many years' experience in municipal life and would be a great acquisition to Aurora's local government. For several years he was reeve, deputy-reeve and councillor in Whitchurch township. Bill Case is a popular personality in his home town and a very successful business man. He was nominated last year but withdrew owing to heavy business demands at that time. We know that strong pressure will be brought to persuade him to seek election this year.

Cameron Loblaw, Jim Wilson, Doug Harrison and Stew Patrick are all practical, successful men. Mr. Patrick has had previous council experience and knows the ropes. Mr. Loblaw, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Harrison would all bring business experience to council, and that's what is needed at this time. Many people are saying that the above men should seek election to office. All of them would receive strong support.

Office Visitors

We have had many visitors to our office at Doan Hall since we opened up a couple of weeks ago. Some have brought us news; others have brought us business; all have brought us good wishes. For all these pleasant experiences we are grateful. We are pleased to add that the sales of our newspaper have increased and we have had an increase in advertising; some of the latter being of a very substantial character.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

Why Is The Planning Board In Such Heck Of A Hurry To Get Zoning By-Law Passed?

We were back again among the headaches and the sleeping tablets when the special meeting of council was held on Tuesday night, Oct. 23, to hold further communion with the zoning by-law. The high priests of the planning board were there, at least three of them, namely, chairman Dr. C. R. Boulding, vice-chairman, S. W. Mills, and faithful follower, Keith Nisbet. Except for one or two interjections by Dr. Boulding and Mr. Mills, the trusty trio sat in mellowed silence. Councillor Bob Gundy, again operating as chairman of a committee of the whole (council having manipulated the magic of "dissolving itself" without any par thereof disintegrating and falling apart), talked like an inspired antique furniture salesman, who can describe all the parts and yet cannot say how they came to be.

If ever Bob Gundy should take it into his head to become a politician or even a travelling preacher, he will hold audiences together because of his versatile ability to spill words. He talked the head off the zoning by-law and still couldn't make sense of it. Nobody could. It's just a parcel of big words enfolding hidden meanings.

Pricking The Bubble
It was Solicitor Lee's job to prick the zoning by-law bubble. He punctured the thing in many places. But the darned thing still floated around, while Councillor Gundy stayed with it, buoying it up. He was loyal to it; his faithfulness was on the heroic scale. The much-bruised, bandaged by-law had a good friend in Councillor Gundy.

We must hand it to him. His defence of the zoning pig in a poke continued to the end. On this occasion he was almost alone, for the planning board consultant was not present. It is true that Dr. Boulding did add a word or two, gently stroking the pig in the poke in smoothly-spoken phrases. Mr. Mills also added a word or two of patronage. As for Mr. Nisbet, he smiled and sat in silence.

Touch of Hollywood
A somewhat surprising, if bright, interlude interrupted proceedings around about 9.45. This was when the editor of the Banner, accompanied by a photographer carrying equipment, entered the council chamber. At this moment all work ceased; the zoning by-law was laid aside; editor and photographer began the apparently easy task of shepherding members of council into a corner of the chamber to have their pictures taken.

One was suddenly impressed with the notion that this was a vital, historic moment in the history of Aurora. Orders were issued as members moved into positions where the flashing bulb could do its work. One member of council was dislodged from a chair so that Mayor Bell could be seated in a central situation.

With deliberate, or perhaps accidental, appropriateness members of council had for their background the walls on which were hung the aerial planning board map and the streamlined zoning map. Against this background of masterly evocations members of council took up positions that would ensure "the thing coming out alright." A touch of Hollywood had come to Aurora.

We watched the art of picture-taking being carried out with a sense of increasing fascination. It was a spellbound moment. Some were smiling, some were sober; but it seemed to us as though Reeve Cook had a wistful look on his face, as though he wondered if he ever would be photographed again as a member of council. Two or three others had similar enquiring facial expressions before the photographic bulb flashed in victory.

Suddenly the flash came. And then another flash. All was over. The camera-man had gotten the council in his bag. All the faces of members of council for 1951 were inscribed on the plate. They were sealed in immortality. This was a moment of luxury. One face that wasn't in the bag was the face of the Aurora News Page reporter. He was no more than a back-stage observer of the Hollywood scene in Aurora's council chamber.

A Return to Headaches
Life can be funny. A few moments of glory, and then a return to the zoning by-law headaches. It seemed to us that Councillors returned to work with visible reluctance. But there was no getting away from Gundy. He still had several pages to read. And read them he did, in a voice that rose in triumph above the noise made by jabberers just outside the

CORRESPONDENT REPORTS

Malcolm Council Waited Until Leaves Had Fallen Before Inaugural Meeting

The inaugural meeting of the Spruce squirrel council was held in the council maple tree at dawn on Thursday, Oct. 27, with all members present. A number of distinguished guests were also in attendance, including Major Peek, chairman of the Kennedy street Thermos and Anti-Twaddle corporation, and Capt. Eavesdropper, publisher of the squirrel paper, "The Searchlight", and chairman of the McMahon park conversation group. Mayor Malcolm welcomed the new council and guests in felicitous terms.

Unable ourselves to attend the meeting, we made arrangements with a member of the squirrel news agency for a full report of the inaugural meeting of the Malcolm council. This report, written in the language of the squirrels, which is more complicated than Arabic, was translated by an expert in the ancient tongue.

There is a preliminary note attached to the council report, and this states that reporters were cordially received by Dr. Malcolm and members of council, and at the close of business the reporters were entertained to a banquet of walnuts in McMahon park, after a small clearance of weeds had been carried out under orders of Capt. Eavesdropper. While enjoying the nuts the reporters studied the file of council business, which the mayor directed should be placed at their disposal by the clerk.

Dr. Malcolm's Address
On rising to speak Mayor Malcolm was given a rousing squirrel ovation, which he acknowledged by raising his paws three times, in the manner of the ancient ritual of squirrels of high degree and noble ancestry. He then received the council gavel from the hands of Reeve Rap and began his address.

The mayor stated that there had been a number of enquiries regarding the delayed holding of the inaugural meeting, and he had a word or two to say on that. The reason for the delay, said Dr. Malcolm, was to enable all the citizens of squirrel town to know what was going on. He had waited until all the leaves were off the council maple tree, so that no one could allege council was working under cover.

He wanted it to be known that he was in favor of the fullest publicity. To have called a meeting while the leaves were so thick that the doings of council were concealed from the full view of the citizens would, he considered, have been asking too much of their fellow-citizens in squirrel town. Citizens might have been forgiven, said Dr. Malcolm, in assuming that members of council had something up their sleeves.

Now they were all gathered on the branches of a tree that had lost its leaves. Citizens could see what was going on. There was no "iron curtain" behind which members of council could conceal their activities. It was his hope that the newly-elected council would give good government to squirrel town. As mayor he would do his best.

Reeve Rap Speaks
At the close of his address, Mayor Malcolm called upon Reeve Rap to say a few words. The rising of the reeve was greeted with a persistent swishing of tails, indicative of his popularity. Reeve Rap is rated as a generous squirrel despite the well-known fact that he has accumulated a large personal store of nuts. His generosity, and his interest in the welfare of his squirrel fellow-citizens, gives the lie to the popular belief that the more nuts one has the lighter-fisted one becomes.

Reeve Rap congratulated Dr. Malcolm on becoming mayor of squirrel town, and wished him success in his office. There was much to do, said the new reeve, particularly in cleaning up the mess left by the old council. But he was sure they could handle the job before them. Their chief aim would be to make the squirrel community prosperous and happy.

As a member of the recreation commission he was anxious to see better conditions prevailing in McMahon park than in previous years. The size and quantity of the weeds during the past year had made the park a hazard to life for squirrels. He also wanted to see something done on the dog problem. He was glad to see Capt. Eavesdropper, of the conversation department, present, and hoped he might have something to tell them.

Deputy Reeve Slow
Deputy Reeve Slow said that, true to his name, he never believed in taking two leaps where one would do. At the same time there were occasions

OBITUARY
ARTHUR THOMAS GORING
Arthur Thomas Goring died at his home, 22 Victoria Ave., Newmarket, on October 15, 1951.
He was born at Aurora on Dec. 4, 1875, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goring. He was a metal worker at the Office Specialty Manufacturing Company Ltd., was identified with the Baptist church, and always had a deep interest in his home.
Surviving are his widow, Gertrude Elizabeth Curtis Goring; one son, Harold A. Goring of Newmarket; and a sister, Mrs. William Wright.

Rev. F. N. Breckon officiated at the funeral service held on October 18 at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket. Pallbearers were A. Crowle, F. N. Smith, Archie Goring, Charles Stouffer, Wm. Curtis and L. Wright. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

CHARLES D. NEILL
In poor health for a number of years, Charles David Neill, 81, died suddenly on Friday evening at his Eversley home. Mr. Neill was a highly-respected farmer on the 3rd concession, where he had lived for the past 31 years. His wife was the former Olive Glass, and they had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last February.
Born at Headford, Mr. Neill was one of a large family, the son of the late James Neill. He had also lived at Victoria Square, Newmarket, and for a number of years near Richmond Hill, at Jefferson. The greater part of his life was spent in Vaughan township. In earlier years, Mr. Neill was connected with the United church, and after coming to Eversley was affiliated with the Presbyterian church there.

The funeral service, attended by a large number of relatives and neighbors, was held from the residence on Monday afternoon. Rev. M. E. Burch of Mimico officiated. There were numerous floral tributes, one of which came from Eversley Presbyterian W.A., of which Mrs. Neill is a charter member. Interment was in King cemetery.

Besides his wife, Mr. Neill is survived by two sons, Howard, Eversley, and Roy of Nobleton; two daughters, Mrs. Nora Caldwell of Shanty Bay and Mrs. Mildred Armstrong, Eversley; and six grandchildren.

A brother, George Neill, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Carson, Jefferson, also survive.

OBITUARY
CALVIN DAVIS
Associated with the Davis Leather Company for 43 years, Calvin Davis died suddenly at his home in Newmarket on October 13, 1951.

Mr. Davis was born in Schomberg on May 4, 1890, the son of Elizabeth and Daniel Davis, and was a member of an old pioneer family of King township. He was chiefly interested throughout his lifetime in his home and garden. His first wife, Marjorie Blair, predeceased him some years ago.

In 1941 he married Mrs. Margaret Bray, who survives him. Also surviving are a step-son, Arnold Bray; one step-daughter, Florence Bray; and two half-brothers, Sterling Davis, and Donald Davis, Detroit, Michigan.

Rev. F. Breckon of the Christian Baptist church conducted funeral services on October 15 at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket. Pallbearers, all business associates of the deceased, were Harvey Burling, George Ingledew, Elmer Brown, Lorne Simpson, Jack Cryderman and Bill Bone. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

OBITUARY
MRS. MARY GOR. COLLINS
An older resident of Newmarket, Mrs. Mary Gorley Collins, died at her home, 93 Prospect Street, on Oct. 8, 1951, after a brief illness.
Born at Cherrywood on Oct. 26, 1864, she was the daughter of Euphemia and Robert Gorley. She was married in December, 1891, to William Nelson Collins. Elder Daniel Prosser officiated at the ceremony at the home of the late J. A. Collins in Newmarket. Her husband died on June 20, 1951. She was a member of the Christian Baptist church, and her life was centred around her home and family.
Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ross Armitage (Lulu); a brother, Robert Gorley, Flesherton; two grandchildren, Mrs. Fred Leach (Ruth), Newmarket, and Harry Armitage, Pine Orchard; and a great-grandson, John Leach.
Rev. Doggett and Rev. R. R. McMath officiated at funeral services held Oct. 11 at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket.
Pallbearers were T. F. Doyle, Fred Lundy, Albert Skellon, J. C. Morris, W. Curtis, and Harry Lundy. Interment was at Newmarket cemetery.

The Story Of SHARON

By

ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the twenty-first instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

In the days of the pioneers very few schools existed in Upper Canada. These were mainly private and attended only by children whose parents were able to pay the fees. When grammar schools were established the situation was similar. The result of all this was that children of early settlers received little or no education and grew to maturity without being trained to read and write. By 1826, 11 grammar schools and 350 common schools had been established. The outlying districts fared badly. Incompetent teachers, often old soldiers, ignorant of any but the simplest rudiments, and who generally ruled by use of the rod, were employed to train the young mind. Salaries paid were but a pittance and parents of the scholars, in turn, boarded the teacher. The average salary paid to teachers in 1829 in the Home District was six pounds, eleven shillings.

Frontier Schools
At a teachers' convention in Newmarket in June, 1860, an essay written by R. T. Peck, was read. An excerpt from this paper portrays the educational situation before the establishment of Common Schools. "The first settlers cleared away the forest trees and tilled the soil until they knew by experience that if they reap and gather in, they must also sow the seed."

"When we glance upon the past history of Canada as to education we are astonished at the change which has taken place. The darker stages of education on the frontiers have passed away. Converse with some of the old-timers and hear of the log school house, the long benches, blackless, and then imagine the ruddy little boy as he comes trudging his way through the unheaten snow for two or three miles, and seats himself with his associates who can play unmolested until the teacher has his nap out, still drowsy from the influence of 'old neck tea', or his pipe of tobacco. View the winding path as it winds from one settlement to another, travelled only by footman or man on horseback."

"Then wend your way from the City of Toronto to the north at a distance of 30 miles and look upon these log cabins and shanties reared by the first settlers. Here, amid hardships: 'Old John Cross kept the village school."

And a queer old man was he, For he spared not the rod and he kept the rule, As he beat in the A.B.C. Every letter in the little boy's noddle Was driven as fast as fast could be So C after B followed through the noddle Like nails, all the A.B.C."

Free Schools
Luckily the days of old John Cross have been left far behind. After the Union of the Canadas by Lord Sydenham in 1841, one of the first acts passed by the parliament (which met at Kingston) was the setting aside an annual sum of $200,000 for support of public schools. A superintendent of education was also appointed. "It was in 1850 that the first free schools were opened in Ontario and in 1871, thanks to the Rev. Egerton Ryerson, all the public schools of the province were made free, and all children in Ontario under a specific age were compelled to attend."

This was indeed a triumph, for public schools and free education had not come about without a great deal of opposition. So long as the so-called upper classes had control it was not desirable that the mass of the people should be educated. The story is told by an advocate of free schools that in a town to the north at a meeting to discuss the question a Family Compact champion stuttered, "What do you want such schools for? There will always be enough well-educated Old Countrymen to transact public business and we can leave the Canadians to clean up the bush!"

Three hundred schools were in operation in 1847, 13 of them in East Gwillimbury. Extant is a minute of a meeting of the Council of the United Counties of Peel and York, held Feb. 13, 1857. In that minute it is recorded that, "Mr. Jones considered that Common School education was the most important and believed it would be productive of greater advantage to the counties to devote any spare funds that could be raised to Common Schools rather than to Grammar Schools."

It was impressed on members of the 1860 council that because of rapidly increasing population, "every exertion should be urged to extend the Common School, for if any department of our public instruction is to be free, it should be the Common Schools, the poor man's academy, and not free education for those able to pay for it!"

School Opening

It was approximately 1820 when the torch of education was lighted in Sharon. At about that time the Friends had returned to David Willson the land and meeting house. David Willson made use of this building for school purposes, and in this the first school was opened, and boys and girls were taught to read and write; as well David Willson, a thorough craftsman himself, trained these boys and girls in some practical handicraft. He long had advocated the theory that children of both sexes should be taught some useful exercise to fit them for economic and industrial living. When in 1834 the lower or town meeting house was about to be built, this log structure was torn down and the school was transferred to the first church building, later known as the music hall. The west side of this building was used as a common school, and separated by a partition; the east half served for township meetings. This arrangement continued until the present school house was built in 1859. Some considerable time after the construction of this latter, the music hall in turn was torn down and it is said that the material was used to build a store. The music hall still existed in 1888.

First Teacher
In so far as can be learned, T. B. Wakefield was the first teacher to officiate in the Sharon school. David W. Hughes tells in his recollections that he was born in 1849 and began his school life when five years old in the little school house in Sharon, and that Hugh Rose McPhail, an uncle of Mrs. Arthur Brammer of Newmarket, was the teacher. They used slates and slate pencils—slate pencils cost one cent and lead pencils cost five cents. Quill pens were used also in those years, and the teacher was expected to keep these pens in condition. Students addressed the teacher as "Master". In January, 1885, a teacher was wanted for the village of Sharon school. The trustees were: J. D. Willson, William Reid and Charles Haines. In 1858 the trustees were: Charles Haines, Reuben Lundy, Willson Reid.

Early in 1858 plans were set in operation to provide a completely new school building, and a lease, bearing date Nov. 11, 1858, and recorded Nov. 2, 1862, was given by William Kitley to Charles Haines for three-quarters of an acre at $9 per annum for school purposes. This rental continued until March 10, 1906, and recorded April 6, 1906, when Charles Watson who had purchased the north half of the Kitley property, sold to Marvin W. Baker, secretary of the school board, the same three-quarter acre of land for $100. Again on April 20, 1948, and recorded in May of same year, Stephen Risebrough and Amelia Risebrough sold to the trustees of school section No. 4, East Gwillimbury, a part lot for $250. There had been other schools in Sharon. David Willson had established two girls' schools. Eliza Reid had conducted a school for girls where in the morning they studied the printed lesson and in the afternoon they were trained in needlework. The girls of those years in Sharon became adepts with

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

There was keen interest in the British elections, and a new government at Westminster at this time is a matter of great import here at Ottawa.

The international situation is of such major concern these days, that apart altogether from political considerations there is something heartening in the news that the great Churchill will again have an authoritative voice in the world affairs.

Elections are very much the business of the people directly concerned who cast the ballots. Nevertheless, I must confess one could discern here a considerable amount of satisfaction with the results. It is quite within the realm of possibility that the change will have far-reaching importance in shaping world history. I think we all hope that under Churchill Britain will regain economic stability and her former place of leadership in the world.

Pensions

The main purpose of the present session was to pass legislation providing universal pensions for all at the age of 70. It was a momentous hour in Canada's history when the new legislation was presented this week. It was a great honor and privilege to have some small part in framing this legislation and I know the feeling of satisfaction which I felt is shared by all people of the riding.

It demonstrates our progress as a nation and our adherence to the principles of social justice. It is introduced at a time when the weight of national and international responsibilities for joining in firm measures to preserve our way of life lies heavily on all our people.

This measure marks our resolute determination to give new meaning and value to our cherished concepts and to press forward toward our ideal of social the needle and the women of the village long were famous for their fine work. John T. Stokes also held private school at his house.

School Picnic

In July of 1800 a picnic was held and the account relates that "about 130 the pupils, 90 in number, with their teacher, Mr. McPherson, marched in procession to the beautiful grove of Mr. Charles Haines where they found their parents and friends—150 people—waiting to receive them. After partaking of the dainties the ladies of Sharon know so well how to provide, they betook themselves in right earnest to the sports of the day. "Amongst other amusements provided for the children were two swings, one of which was of the most magnificent proportions, being suspended between two trees about 30 feet from the ground. "The parents and guests from adjoining sections were waited upon by the older pupils, and after all were satisfied there taken up several baskets of fragments. "Original Poem

As soon as order was restored, Mr. David Willson addressed the children and read the following lines which he had composed for the occasion and which were sung by the children:

"O! that I were a child again,
Like unto these I see;
But ah! I could not there remain,
A: I was born to be.
"O! Then did fortune on me smile,
My father did provide;
And mother blessed this little child,
When I was by her side.
"O! Could these little children know,
How richly they do fare;
They are too young to plough or sow,
Or toil for what they wear.
"To read their books and go to school,
Is all that they can do;
And learn right well to write by rule,
And spell and figure too.
"And yet, they do have time to play,
As age cannot afford;
O Youthful life, most happy day,
That is to us restored.
"At home we do our basket fill,
And trudge along to school;
And so in joys we're living still,
Nor learn to play the fool.
"It is to us a blessed day
When we such laws can see;
For them from school that stay away,
Are foolish like to be.
"Now children, come, our joys to sing,
Our master's good and kind;
And children's life's a pleasant thing,
For joy and peace we find.
"And sure our diet's sweet and good,
And such our bounties are;
We're little children in the wood,
Like little birds we fare."

Mr. McKeo was next introduced and in a speech of considerable length referred to the superior advantage possessed by youth of the day, and urged parents to spare no pains to secure to their children a sound common school education.

POLLOCK HEADS KESWICK

The organization meeting of the Keswick Hockey Club was held last week. Claude Pollock was elected president. Vice-presidents are Royden Connell and Edwin Mahoney. Ted Anderson was named secretary and Mrs. Hearty Clark treasurer. The executive will meet next Monday at the Keswick arena at 8 p.m. to name the coaches and managers of the teams.

We've received a couple of letters recently and had hoped to print them at the time but even with 16 pages in the paper, we're pressed for room, so heavy is the demand from correspondents and advertisers. So, we'll deal with the letter here to, we trust, the satisfaction of the writers.

The most recent is from Sam Cawthra who is now at the York County Home on Yonge St. Mr. Cawthra was a well known figure on Main St. He could be found at all hours with sketch pad and pencil catching the scenes on the street. We've a water color of the fire hall that he did and we suppose, with the building doomed, it will have some value to history students too, as well as affording pleasure to ourselves.

Mr. Cawthra also designed a Canadian flag which he sent to Ottawa. He writes of a recent editorial on a "distinctive Canadian flag" that he takes exception to the use of the word "distinctive". The design we described in the editorial had a replica of the flag of Britain in the upper left corner. He writes: "The flags of other nations have no flag of another nation superimposed upon them." Under the circumstances, he asks, "how could the flag you describe be distinctively anything?" Well, it is a point to consider but we don't know how Canada is going to get away with an acceptable flag unless there is some recognition given to the flag of Britain.

The writer of the second letter signs himself "Better Balance" and writes from Toronto about recent editorials on industrial development. In these editorials, we plugged away on the theme of decentralization of industry and population. Our correspondent writes:

"If one may say so, it is interesting to see the strange but sublime law of compensation emerging quietly from the threat of the A-bomb technique directed at the hived centres of industry by a potential aggressor. As I see it, the principle of the decentralizing of the nation's industries deserves continuous study at the policy-making level, and to be developed and supported to the practicable economic limit.

"I see, or think I see, wide social benefits likely to stem from this enforced better distribution of people - not only across Ontario but, even more important, across the dominion. Bringing the mouths closer to the sources of food is in itself an economic advantage to our most basic and important single industry (agriculture) directly affecting 25 out of every 100 Canadians.

"Only last week, for example, I saw the following 'ad' in one of the financial journals, and headed 'New Industries For Canada': 'We are interested in locating new industrial plants in Canada. Available are complete industrial plants and machine tools as well as brand new patents, processes and products in the following fields: . . . Our clients prefer location in less industrialized areas, such as the Maritime Provinces, the Prairie Provinces, British Columbia - or cities and towns outside the main metropolitan areas in Central Canada. . . ."

We don't as a rule pay any heed to anonymous letters, but this one deserves some mention. The correspondent suggested that we run "a beef" column in the paper to which citizens could address their "beefs" and through which members of council could give their answer. Judging from some of the "beefs" and knowing something of the background to their answers, we doubt if we could find enough space, even in 16 pages, for such a column.

But we would suggest that if a correspondent has a "beef" and cannot get satisfaction from council that he address his protest to the paper. But for heaven's sakes, sign his name to it. We will not publish anonymous letters.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

OCTOBER 29, 1926

It is the time of eating pumpkin pie, doughnuts and apples; the time for ascertaining one's future mate by means of a thrilling walk down the cellar backwards with a mirror held in front of the face; the time for fortune telling and hoodwinking.

The front of the furniture store of Roadhouse and Rose is being brightened by a new coat of paint.

Jack Frost is snooping around.

A number of Newmarket people attended the hot fowl supper at Keswick on Monday night.

An exhibit of potatoes and cauliflowers grown on the reclaimed Holland Marsh may be seen in the window of R. F. Green and Sons. It was the end of June when the land was drained and the last week in July when the vegetables were planted, yet in spite of the lateness (consequent upon delays in drainage and breaking) the results have been very gratifying.

Some people say that cool ashes will not start a fire. We had a practical test in Newmarket, last Saturday evening. Don't run the risk. Put them in a metal receptacle and then don't empty them till you know they are dead cold.

Work was commenced on the new York County hospital. It is expected that the hospital will be opened for the reception of patients about the first of April.

It is to be hoped that Halloween pranks will not be perpetrated on Sunday night.

NOVEMBER 1, 1901

Kettleby: The harvest home festival here on Wednesday evening may be termed a howling success, netting about $100. The immense throng that congregated at the door of the eating house was almost uncontrollable in their haste to reach the tables. There is, however, only one thing to be regretted, and that was the falling short of the hot fowl which was previously considered ample for as large a gathering as could be expected.

Baldwin: Emory Wardell was rudely awakened from his dreams by a horrible racket in the house last week. Visions of burglars dawned on his mind but the racket continuing he got up to investigate. He found a wee owl had entered to inspect the new residence and was greatly enraged to find his exit barred by the windows. Emory goaled him but with true burglar's instinct he broke jail before his trial.

The skeptical may scoff at Hick's meteorological almanac. I was a skeptic once myself but invariably his forecasts have been correct.

From the advertisements: Chocolate drops, 10c lb.; mixed candy, 7c lb.; 25c stockings for 15c; good red salmon, 8c per tin.

The high school commencement exercises in the town hall last Friday night were a grand success and the performers were greeted with a $70 house.

Sutton: Our enterprising tinsmith, Mr. Wallace, is busily engaged putting up cavers-troughing for various parties in the neighborhood.

THURSDAY, THE FIRST DAY OF NOVEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

SUBSIDIZED BUS SERVICE

We can understand the distress of the residents on the loss of the service and convenience of the second bus route. We do not feel, however, that the council should be asked to subsidize the bus company so that this service can be restored. A bus subsidy under the present circumstances would be a misuse of public money.

If the council should undertake to finance the bus service on some streets, is there any reason why it should not finance a similar service in other remote sections? In fact, carried to its conclusion, why shouldn't the council hire the bus outright and direct it about the town to the convenience of residents in every section?

Possibly the day may come when such a service is desirable and the means of the town permit it. But that day is far away. In the meantime, should the rest of the town be asked to pay for convenience of one section.

We would suggest that if Newmarket wants the convenience of a bus service, it should either permit a private company to operate as it can on routes of its choice, with the approval of council; or alternatively, operate the bus service as a town facility, sending the bus along the routes serving the most citizens to the best advantage, and paying the loss of such an operation out of its taxes.

FARM RADIO FORUM

The National Farm Radio Forum started its 12th season this week with a discussion of the question: Are Co-ops efficient? On the next two Mondays, the forum will discuss the questions: Are Co-ops democratic? And are Co-ops Socialistic? The fourth broadcast will be given over to reports from the local forums. The next series of broadcasts is concerned with community living. Farm policy will be discussed in four broadcasts in January; marketing in February and international relations in the concluding series.

The radio forum is sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, The Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. It is the largest such organization in the world and has been used as a model for similar broadcasts in other countries. Farm forums are described as the voice of rural Canada. It is a fair description. Using a combination of broadcast discussions and supported by information and study material prior to the broadcasts, the national body sparks local forums to discussion, decision, and action.

But as adequate as the national organization may be, its strength lies in the multiplicity of local forums. In some counties, notably Grey and Bruce, there are forums in nearly every school section. In those counties, the tradition of farm organization is strong. In York county, there are fewer forums but those which do exist are for the most part active groups with a membership each of 15 or so.

It is easy to start a forum. Arrange for ten or so neighbors to get together around a radio on Monday nights. Mr. Floyd Griesbach, National Farm Forum Secretary, 409 Huron St., Toronto, will send you forum information on request. Assistance can be had through him.

IN CASES OF EMERGENCY

We commented last week in an editorial note on the fact that there was only one telephone to serve the town hydro, water and fire departments. When the hydro went out on a recent Saturday, one Main St. businessman tried to get the number without success. All he got was the busy signal. He wondered what would have happened had there been a fire. We wondered too and suggested in our note that two phones be installed.

We have since been informed that in case of an emergency, the telephone operators will break into the busy line. And also, the reason the line is so busy when there is a break-down is because a number of citizens grab their phones out of sheer curiosity.

It was suggested that if those who had only curiosity to satisfy were to wait a bit, while those with a stake in the emergency learned the facts, it would ease matters somewhat.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

The other consideration was that if there were a second phone, it would require a second man to answer it. When emergency calls can get through, the second man does seem expensive.

HENS SHOW THE WAY

We heard a farm broadcast this week during which the announcer said, with a certain amount of pride, as if he had shared in the accomplishment, that Canadian hens had responded to Finance Minister Abbott's pleas for greater production to buck inflation with many hundred thousands more eggs.

All of this is encouraging. The only sure means to fight inflation is to produce more and with the hens doing their bit, we are presented with a notable example of patriotism. If the factory worker and others who share in production and processing can be persuaded to follow that example, all could be well.

There is only one hitch in this process. The theory is that more production will bring down prices. Unfortunately, it takes more men, more material, and broadly speaking, more cost to produce more and that means a higher price until production comes in. Now, if the government were to finance this initial boost, we expect the producers and processors could travel on their way themselves. Simple, isn't it?

RE-EDUCATING THE SCIENTISTS

One of America's most distinguished scientists and president of Harvard University, Dr. Conant, forecast to a scientific convention recently that it would not be long before we would be able to obtain a virtually unlimited supply of foodstuffs synthetically.

There was a pointed comment on this forecast from The Interpreter, A Commentary on Events and Education, published in the States. Says The Interpreter:

"If this is true, and chemists will be able to do away with agriculture, why worry about the conservation of the soil? Why try to discourage mining of the soil? Why try to re-educate the present generation of commercial farmers? Why teach organic gardening? Also, if chemical magic will furnish the world an unlimited supply of food, why teach birth control? Why try to discourage the limitless breeding of low I Q individuals? Why introduce birth control in India, China, Japan and other regions where people are breeding like animals up to the absolute limit of their food production?"

"There were similar glowing predictions about obtaining potable water from sea water, (so why worry about the fall of the water table?), and the miraculous way in which chemistry would soon be able to cure cancer, (so why worry about what is responsible for the constant increase in cancer?)."

"We wish these chemical miracle workers had an ounce of philosophy in their systems. If they did, they would have discussed instead the curious coincidence between the increased use of chemicals in farming and food processing and the increase in the incidence of cancer; the rise of our chemical and other modern industries and the coincidental destruction of our natural resources of soil, water, forests, coal, oil, iron, copper, etc.

"A good dose of ethical culture might have made these scientists ask themselves whether future generations of mankind have any rights to the earth at all, and whether they are right in encouraging the present generation to reduce the earth to a desert—because chemists will be able at some future time to make bricks without straw."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The veterans are making every effort to see that Remembrance Day, Nov. 10, is observed by the wearing of a poppy by all. The day serves doubly, as a reminder of the sacrifices of two wars, and as a practical means of assisting those who survived but are now in difficulties because of the disabilities suffered in service or other circumstance. The veterans should be supported in this effort. It is little enough that we can do.

One of Mr. Churchill's election platforms was economy in government. He set a remarkable example by cutting cabinet ministers' salaries, and his own, at the first meeting of the new government.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

I and Slim Bliggens' cousin, the famous retired air race pilot, Stallanprang Bliggens, did the 200 mile handicap air race on Saturday. Your favorite correspondent went along in the rear cockpit of Stallanprang's sleek Corndevil monoplane as observer and advisory navigator.

A half hour before all the competing airplanes were flagged off the starting runway, Stallanprang Bliggens gave me a briefing.

"This here briefing will be a brief one," he said. "Now this trip is gonna be a piece of fruit cake. All we have gotta do is to get up high enough so as we can see Barrie before we start. Then all's we gotta do is aim at her."

"But what," said I, "if there are clouds up there. Then we won't be able to see anything."

"Then we'll listen to the football game." It was typical of Stallanprang's lighthearted attitude toward such competitions, always the good sport, the bon vivant, the gay rooster.

"Once we've clumb up high enough, we can coast the rest of the way. Them other flyers go too close to the ground and have to wear bifocals to see where they is going. Not us, we is smarter."

We strapped ourselves into the Corndevil and after jockeying for position, we were flagged off by the starter. Stallanprang opened the throttle and we roared away.

Bliggens briefed me over the inter-com about stern and port and starboard and other terminology.

"Everything okay?" asked Stallanprang.

"Lodger, I mean Roger," I said.

"What do you think of the viz?" he asked.

"Oh I would rather have just water or fruit juice. It makes me sneeze," I said.

"No, I mean the vizibility."

"Oh, that stuff!" I laughed above the roar of the engine.

"It is not duff, it's clear as a bell, or are youse blind as a bat," was the irritated reply.

It was no use, I just couldn't get onto no flying jargon. Although I remembered the pilots in the war talking about duff viz and piece of cake and pranging, I just never could get onto it.

"Oh look over there, off the right hand wing," I said. "That looks like one of those little Pubs flying over there."

"Pubs don't fly and that ain't a right hand wing, it's the starboard wing, you egg-headed mole," Stallanprang raged into the mike. "That little airplane over there is a Cub."

"Of course, of course, I knew it all the time," I said. "But why do you have to make such a big thing out of an insignificant little thing as a Cub?"

We droned on in silence for most of the remaining part of the trip. It was a portion of pie for Stallanprang Bliggens, the famous retired air race pilot. We hit Barrie crash-on, I mean bang-on, and then went to Kitchener.

Kitchener was staring us right in the face after a few minutes of flying time and we couldn't miss it.

Back at the Island Airport we swaggered into the coffee bar looking as much like we had been in the Battle of Britain as we could.

I decided I would make Stallanprang feel better by letting the gathered crowd think I was a real experienced airman.

"Nothing to it," I told the crowd. "There was a piece of cake and we ate it too," I said with forced nonchalance.

Bliggens chased me out of the coffee shack, clouting me over the head with his ear-phones.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

At long last, the time has come to stand up and be counted. We are referring to the vote on the marketing agency for milk on the Toronto market.

This should be the end of the horse and buggy days of milk marketing at least at the farmers' end of it, and as in so many other cases, one cannot help feeling sorry that those days had to come to an end. The old method had some advantages and had it not been for the pigheaded attitude of some distributor representatives and the shortsighted attitude of others, it wouldn't have come at all.

However, we are forced into this and the thing to do is to push it through and get it established as fast as possible. So here is hoping that enough of us will see the writing on the wall and will sign and mail the ballot, marked yes.

In all honesty, though, we would like to give a warning not to expect a cure for all our ills. The agency will not force the dairies to improve their method of merchandising and the greatest trouble today is the expensive and inefficient delivery system in the city. Consequently we shouldn't expect an immediate increased return for our milk.

Secondly, the crux of the matter, as it seems to us, is the selling or directing of the surplus into other channels. This cannot be done immediately or easily. We are doubtful if it can be done at all as long as we do not own a processing plant. There is a matter we will have to get at right away.

We are saying this because we would hate to see the agency get off to a bad start because of too high hopes. There will be difficulties and annoyances, and the competition will not sit well with all of us.

But as time goes on, it will become increasingly apparent that the advantages of an agency far outweighs its disadvantages. First, because we will have a direct control over our product, and second, because whoever does the bargaining for us will have the full authority of a united and strong organization behind him.

We want the agency and we would urge all shippers to vote yes, to vote promptly and fill out the forms properly and mail them in time.

There is only one other matter that we want to get off our chest. Let us amend the constitution of our organization and let's have a truly democratic body. It isn't at the present time. Districts of very unequal sizes are represented by the same number of directors. Too many of the directors have been there too many years. This is bound to lead to complacency. The agency will need people with imagination and courage and they will have an uphill fight—not now, because we think that the agency will be supported, but after the first year when there will be difficulties.

We want people who have convictions and a desire to serve. This will be a large organization. It will handle a large staff and a large income. It will be in the public eye and it will have to withstand strong attacks. Only strong producers' organizations will carry it to success.

Last but not least, now we may hope for a better milk board. Let's have one with some new faces on it. Let us have members who will not mull over old arguments but will start in a new light of understanding and co-operation. It would be wise if the producers and distributors appointed a new man to it. And let's have a new consumer representative. They may avoid some of the bitterness that has resulted in court proceedings. Let all those people concerned remember the old Chinese proverb about truth being very important, but peace being more valuable than truth at times because what this industry needs today is peace to prosper.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

WE CALL IT HUMAN NATURE

One day recently Jean Williams and I journeyed to Aurora, where, with fellow members from other Institutes, we listened to Miss McBride of the W.I. branch of the Department of Agriculture, tell us something of what has been learned about human nature.

It was a subject which called for expert handling if it was to be presented in an acceptable form to an audience which was composed not of psychiatrists, psychologists, nor any other "ologists", just women interested in what makes us what we are and why.

Very deep knowledge, a dash of humor, and a fine delivery kept Miss McBride's audience in the kind of a mood a speaker likes — close attention — from start to finish.

She told us that daily, more is being learned about what constitutes mental health, that psychology and even diets, allied to a will to understand the needs of the mentally ill, are beginning to show that human nature CAN be changed.

She told of attending a conference in London where there were 25 different countries represented — and these delegates were all studying ways and means of improving mental health and pooling the knowledge so far available.

Human nature, they found, is modifiable, for although good mental health cannot be attained as easily as a good physique, it CAN be improved. You cannot stand still — your development must be either forward or back. In fact you have to find out whether you are growing up or down! We all are conscious of emotional needs, and in children these are vitally important. A child must feel it is loved and wanted, in short, that it belongs. We all, child and adult, have these needs, and they send us rushing off to join this and that so that we may feel we belong somewhere.

Feel Secure

At each age the child must be helped to feel secure in its own group. Whether a person is 18 or 85, he must feel he has a definite place in family life. We make a tragic mistake when we shut out children or old people from home worries. They can sense that something is wrong and often exaggerate the cause of the strained atmosphere. And ALL, very young or very old in the home, should have definite duties — something that gives them a sense of responsibility.

Then everyone should be allowed to try his wings — make

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Members of Laskay branch have plans well organized for the annual bazaar Saturday, Nov. 10, in Institute hall at 2.30 in the afternoon. There will be an apron booth, toys and candy, home baking, and refreshments.

At the regular meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Buddin, Miss Margaret Neilson, superintendent of the country branch of the Hospital for Sick Children at Thistle-town, will be guest speaker. Answers to the roll call will be presentation of a "picture, clipping or information" for the Tweedsmuir Book. Mrs. Pearson Smeltzer will explain the motto "A silent man is often worth listening to." Mrs. Mac shall McMurchy, convener for home economics and health, is convening the program. Lunch conveners are Helen Hunter, Mrs. Chas. Hatley and Mrs. Archie McDonald.

King branch will hear the report of the Toronto Area convention given by the delegate, Mrs. T. L. Williams, at the branch meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, at the home of Mrs. Ivan Specht.

A report of the district service held at Aurora, Oct. 19, will be given by Mrs. Gordon Wells. Current events and music will be featured. The annual Armistice gesture will be food parcels for Britain in response to the roll call. They will be sent to a sister branch in Kent to whom parcels have been forwarded for a number of years. Mrs. Len. Shropshire is program convener. Committee is Mrs. H. Neill, Mrs. C. H. Stewart, Mrs. Ed. Kyle, Miss Eva Dennis.

Aurora branch, at the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Oct. 25, at the home of Mrs. V. Fines, had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Fielding, a member of the local council, who spoke on "Community Activities and Public Relations."

Plans are under-way to send good used clothing and bedding to the hurricane victims in Jamaica. Anyone wishing to contribute please leave donations in the rear room, town hall, on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 8, from 2 to 5 p.m.

It was also voted at this meeting to send $10 to the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada for flour for Greece.

There is still a good supply of Christmas cards for sale. Please get in touch with Mrs. Saigle, Wellington St. E., in this connection.

Kettleby branch, 35 in number, were the guests of the Nobletown branch on the evening of October 17 at a flower demonstration by the Dale Estate of Brampton. Mr. Dolson, the demonstrator, made up corsages, nosegays, wristlets, dining-room table arrangements, and, most beautiful of all, a bride's bouquet consisting of about 15 white ostrich plumes with orchids and gardenias, that sells for $75.

The flowers were all distributed by lucky tickets.

The October meeting at the home of Mrs. Murray Cook was addressed by Dr. King of the York County Health Unit, who explained how the project was organized, and then answered a number of questions following his talk.

Mrs. Albert Farren will be attending the convention as our official delegate.

Mrs. E. B. West reported on the course, "They Call It Human Nature," that she and Mrs. W. Sabin attended in Aurora.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Jewitt a week earlier, on November 21, to allow members to attend the slip-covering course at Mrs. Sabin's the last week in November.

Snowball branch met Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. J. Davis, with 20 members and 12 guests present. The president, Mrs. H. Patrick, opened the meeting with the "Ode," followed by the Mary Stewart collection.

Mrs. Reddick gave a report on the treat taken to the Ontario Hospital. The secretary, Mrs. E. Copson, gave a report on the booth at the York County plowing match. Despite the rain we made a good profit.

A euchre was planned for Monday, Nov. 5, at the school-house.

Our guest speaker was Col. Picking of the Aurora Banner who judged the snapshot contest, and gave a very enlighten-talk on photography.

Winners in the contest were: humorous, Mrs. R. Cain; scene, Mrs. F. W. Browne and Miss Sandra Harding; also Mrs. H. Morning and Paul Davis. All prize-winners received an album.

June Lucas and Gary Hendricks, accompanied by Mrs. Hendricks, sang. Instrumental trio, Miss S. Harding, Cora Morning and Edward Max, played, and Mrs. H. Morning read a poem. The meeting closed with "God Save the King," followed by lunch.

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, Zephyr branch will sponsor a bus to Toronto to the W. I. convention held at the Royal York hotel. The bus leaves about 8 a.m.

Sharon branch are holding their November meeting at the hall for an at home for members and their families. Pot-luck supper; bring your baskets along. Will each member please bring a gift for a bingo. Price for prize not more than 25c.

The November meeting of the Mount Albert branch will be held at the home of Mrs. J. MacPherson on Thursday, Nov. 8. Hostesses: Mrs. MacPherson, Mrs. L. Broderick and Mrs. Herb. Harmon. Roll call: "A labor-saving device on the farm." Program committee: Mrs. Ken. Mitchell and Mrs. Mel. Oldham.

The Queensville branch met on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 24, in the United church basement. Mrs. Fred Weddel, the president, was in charge of the opening exercises and the business period. It was decided to send $5 to Greece.

Mrs. Frank Kavanagh was appointed convener of the euchre committee.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. T. Miller for her beautiful floral baskets used to decorate the basement.

The Mount Albert Institute then took charge of the program with Mrs. Donald Stiver presiding. The theme centred around "Hobbies." Several readings were given. Mrs. Bruce Rolling gave a demonstration of leathercraft as a hobby.

Mrs. Herb Harmon conducted an interesting contest on "Hobbies." Everyone enjoyed Mount Albert's program very much. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

A Law Helps Us To Help You

Many people do not know they have the protection of the Small Loan Law. Our government passed this law in 1939 as a convenience and safeguard to any man or woman who needs to borrow money from time to time to meet money emergencies.

Before this law was passed, "loan sharks" took advantage of people in trouble by charging exorbitant rates and using vicious practices made possible by the lack of proper regulation.

The Small Loans Act has done away with all this. It protects borrowers by limiting charges and requires loan charges to be figured only on unpaid balances.

The business of lending sums of $500 or less is under supervision of the Department of Insurance for Canada.

Organizations like Household Finance support the Small Loans Act wholeheartedly. It protects you from unfair lending practices and enables us to give the kind of quick, friendly, confidential money help we know you want.

Our booklet "Money Management, Your Budget"—designed to help you help yourself—is available at your nearest branch office or by writing our Consumer Education Department, 80 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

'Fulfilling Vital Place' Kingcrafts Members Told

The annual meeting of Kingcrafts Guild showed definite development of the year-old organization. "I feel that handicrafts are fulfilling a vital place in this community," said Lady Flavell, president, in her opening remarks to a large gathering held in the United church parlor, Oct. 24.

"In trying to revive and keep alive our ancestral arts and skills, two unforeseen by-products have resulted," declared the president. "We have found an outlet for our inborn urge to create and express beauty, and the women of the country, the village and the city have been brought together in happy union," she said. The purpose of the forthcoming spring sale of work is "to prove that Kingcrafts is making a real contribution in the development of handicrafts in the district," Lady Flavell thanked those active in the organization.

The officers, group conveners and special committee heads were returned to office by acclamation, with the addition of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty as second vice-president. The executive is: Lady Flavell, president; Mrs. J. L. Grew, 1st vice-pres.; Mrs. C. Beatty, 2nd vice-pres.; Mrs. E. B. Johnston, secretary; Mrs. H. Bryan, treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Johnston, corresponding secretary.

Annual reports showed membership at 77, of which 13 joined in September. Associate membership is 50. Mrs. Johnston, secretary, said craft work has reached the place where it will benefit from criticism, with special speakers, demonstrations and colored photography having their place. She spoke of the excellent leadership of the president.

Mrs. H. Bryan reported annual receipts of $165.55. A balance of $118 is on hand, $80 of which goes to craft groups for special needs and services.

Mrs. Whitley Finch read the reports of conveners, which told of group improvement.

Mrs. Kemp Wolffe and Miss Ruth Holmes, of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild, guests of the meeting, spoke of the interest of the Guild in the progress of Kingcrafts.

Speaker stresses revival of hand crafts

Mr. Spencer Clarke, of the Guild of All Arts, said handicrafts are a common denominator among people. They are the soundest things in life and give the "most for the least." "Crafts revival," he said, "is of economic, aesthetic and physical importance. Crafts are important in boom times for recessions are bound to come. The knowledge of arts and crafts will supplement personal income in those days."

Twenty years ago Mr. Clarke founded an arts and crafts centre that has become the mecca for students and tourists all over the world. Set high on Scarboro Bluffs, overlooking Lake Ontario, the project was commenced with four small work houses. He described the later expansion of the Guild of All Arts. He spoke of the early Canadian pioneers, hewing out necessities of life because of the knowledge of crafts. They knew the link with the past must be strengthened and preserved.

"We think of the Guild of All Arts as a suburban village set up in the midst of 45,000 people, where handicrafts and arts are an influence on the whole community," said Mr. Clarke.

Mrs. J. L. Grew thanked the speaker.

At the social hour, the leather group served refreshments, with Mrs. W. F. Pong, the convener, and Mrs. J. L. Grew pouring tea. A display of work was held. On display were hand-woven white evening bags accented with motifs of gold thread, done by Lady Flavell.

The next monthly meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 28, at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, Yonge Street. Mrs. Waldie mentioned the crafts exhibit being currently shown at the Toronto Art Gallery, open until Nov. 18, every day.

HEALTH UNIT PLANS CAMPAIGN TO IMPROVE STANDARDS

The York County Health Unit, through its staff of sanitary inspectors, is carrying on a campaign to have all York County restaurants, lunch counters and refreshment stands meet minimum provincial regulations, said Dr. Robert M. King, director, in a report submitted to the board on October 17. During September, 27 inspections were made, and although up to now reasonable co-operation has been shown, there is need for much more effort on the part of some owners.

In the field of school health, two nursing staff conferences have been held to deal with such new matters as the experimental health record form suggested by the Department of Education and now in use in some schools in the county.

During September the staff made 38 home visits concerning communicable diseases. A total of 16 cases of poliomyelitis, in the whole north area, reported so far this year, has not been a large number and most of the cases have been mild, Dr. King said. Four chest x-ray clinics were attended by the nurses during the month.

The York County Health Unit is now exploring the possibility of establishing child health centres at strategic points, to assist parents in preventing illness in infants and pre-school children.

The entire staff of sanitary inspectors attended a regional one-day conference at Brampton, attended by inspectors from Owen Sound, Etobicoke, Toronto, and other central Ontario points. The conference dealt with problems in sewage and waste disposal from private residences, and restaurant sanitation.

Detailed statistics were included in Dr. King's report.

FRIENDS ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Prior to her marriage to Mr. Michael van Nostrand, Miss Betty Jennings was guest of honor at many functions.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Miss Maurine Lock, Wilson Heights, Toronto. Miss Doreen Hoffman, Toronto, gave a luncheon. Miss June Caulfield and Mrs. Caulfield were hostesses at a pantry shelf shower.

Mrs. C. King and Miss Florence King entertained at their home for the bride-elect, when a presentation of a beautiful trillium and cup and saucer was made by neighbors and friends. A community shower was held in the school at Temperanceville, and the office staff at Confederation Life made a presentation.

Mrs. Ray Jennings entertained at a trousseau tea on Sept. 29 in honor of her daughter. A luncheon was also given for the bridal party following the rehearsal.

YORK I TEACHERS MEET AT JERSEY

The second meeting of York I Teachers' Group was held at Jersey school on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23.

The meeting opened with "O Canada." Mrs. Irene Proctor, president, presided. The roll call was answered with 35 present, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Inspector O. M. MacKillop introduced several visitors.

The next meeting will be held at Keswick school on Friday afternoon, Jan. 25. Program committee is: Mr. N. Rae, Mr. E. Giles and Miss Evelyn Sedore; lunch com.: Mrs. Stiles, Misses Curtis, Daley, Godsell and Ellis. Miss Wyand spoke on "Curriculum Revision." Miss N. Daley is president of this committee, and Miss I. Wyand was elected as secretary. A meeting will be held at Pefferlaw school on Monday, Nov. 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. O. M. MacKillop spoke briefly to the teachers, and the oratorical contest for our area followed, with 10 promising contestants.

The judges were Mr. MacKillop, Rev. A. J. Arthur, and Mr. Horace Brown. Final standings were:

1. Carol Brown, Jersey school, subject, "What does a 13-year-old girl know about Canada?" 2. Bob Pegg, Jersey school, "My School." 3. Patsy Hall, Sharon school, "Sharon Temple." 4. Joan Burns, Helton school, "What Will Tomorrow Bring?" 5. George Proulx, Jersey school, "French and English Canada."

These boys and girls competed at Richmond Hill on Oct. 24.

Also on the program were musical numbers by Franklin and Queensville schools, directed by their music supervisor, Miss Mona Armstrong.

The meeting closed with "God Save the King."

HONOR W. J. CASEY WITH PRESENTATION

On Sunday, Oct. 21, the executive officers of Danforth-Beaches Liberal Association, Toronto, paid a surprise visit to Mr. William J. Casey, Lowell Ave., Newmarket. Also present was Mr. W. Earl Upper, Liberal candidate in the coming provincial election.

Until the end of the present year, Mr. Casey, now living in Newmarket, is the president of the Danforth-Beaches association. The executive presented him an illuminated address and a gift in appreciation of his long service to the Danforth-Beaches riding, and expressed regret at his coming retirement.

W.C.T.U. MEET

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Maitland, 69 Botsford St., on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 3 p.m.

VAN NOSTRAND—JENNINGS

Tall candelabra and baskets of white gladioli formed the setting in the United church, Aurora, for the marriage of Elizabeth Marilyn Jennings, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings, to Mr. Michael John van Nostrand, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick van Nostrand. Rev. H. Howey, assisted by Rev. E. C. Moddle, officiated.

Mrs. I. Harris sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gown in ivory velvet, cut on Elizabethan lines, featuring a fitted bodice, stand-up wing collar and sheath-tight sleeves, extending in points over the hands. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with tiny buttons. The bouffant skirt swept into a circular chapel train. Her full-length tulle illusion veil was caught to a Juliet cap, and she carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, calla lilies and Virginia carnations.

Miss Frances Croft, maid of honor, Shirley Hare and Florence King, bridesmaids, and Sheila van Nostrand, junior attendant, were gown alike in strapless gowns of Killarney green velvet, fashioned on princess lines, with ivory lace bolero jackets, featuring stand-up wing collars, similar to the bride's. Their headresses were circles of green velvet with clusters of baby mums, and they carried bouquets of butterfly roses, Virginia carnations, yellow mums and gladioli.

The little flower girl, Diana Jennings, niece of the bride, wore a long frock of daffodil yellow velvet and a narrow velvet headband trimmed with baby mums. Her miniature nosegay was of Talisman roses and yellow mums.

Mr. Neil van Nostrand was groomsmen, and the ushers were Robert, Peter and Richard van Nostrand.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Ridge Inn, Oak Ridge, where Mrs. Jennings received the guests in a floor length gown of keepsake blue lace and crepe, with a grey feather hat and grey accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses and pink and blue cornflowers.

Mrs. van Nostrand, mother of the groom, assisted in a full-length gown of sandalwood lace and crepe, with matching feather hat and accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and blue carnations.

For travelling, the bride chose a powder blue gabardine suit with navy accessories and topcoat, and corsage of pink gladioli.

Upon their return from their honeymoon to northern points and the Laurentians, Mr. and Mrs. van Nostrand will reside at Vandorf.

Guests attended from Ottawa, Port Hope, Windsor, Brantford, Embro, Alliston and Toronto. Present were four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bovair, Mrs. John Jennings and Mrs. Hillary, also Dr. D. E. Cannell, godfather of the groom.

MONTREAL—It's old-fashioned and p-a-i-n-f-u-l to try to RUB away rheumatic aches or muscle soreness. So why not learn the modern, ELEANOR LINDIMENT way to get rid of the aches? All you do is just put Sloan's Liniment on the sore spot. In seconds, you can feel Sloan's soothing, penetrating warmth going deep to bring wonderful relief. Why spend a night, or even an hour, suffering from pain that Sloan's can get rid of in minutes? Sloan's Liniment costs just 50c for the small-sized bottle—90c for the large—at any drugstore.

How Does This Strike You for a chilly November afternoon? Tender baking powder biscuits with gobs of golden butter, and steaming hot coffee. Delicious! Of course, especially if you've made the biscuits with CALUMET BAKING POWDER—the double acting baking powder that means sure results... always! Try it!

PRIZE BAKING POWDER BISCUITS
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Stir vigorously until mixture forms soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll about 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured biscuits cutter. Bake in greased baking pan in hot oven (400° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

Did You Know Alice in the White Disney Picture

"Alice in Wonderland" had a very marvelous mushroom? If she ate one, she would shrink. If she nibbled at the other, Alice would shoot way up tall. Well, I know a way to help the kiddies in your family to grow tall, and sturdy—that is to have plenty of milk-rich food like JELL-O PUDDINGS for dessert. And Jell-O Puddings certainly offer more variety and are more tempting than Alice's marvelous mushroom. They're so delicious to eat, the kiddies will be begging for all flavours—Vanilla, Chocolate, Butterscotch and Caramel. And don't forget the wonderful Jell-O Tapioca Puddings too. They are as good as they are good for you.

"I DO Like Pretty Shoes, but for a while I was afraid I'd have to give them up—my feet were bothering me so!"—my friend Jane said the other day. "Then," she said, "I remembered all I'd heard you say about the new BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters with Phenylum!"

Aren't my new shoes pretty?—and so comfortable, too! Yes, if you're suffering from p-a-i-n-f-u-l corns or calluses, try Blue-Jay with Phenylum. It's the quickest working, most effective remedy for these miseries yet invented. Took the Blue-Jay folks ten years to perfect it—then it was proved to be effective in 95% of the cases tested! Ask your druggist for Blue-Jay with Phenylum—for happy feet!

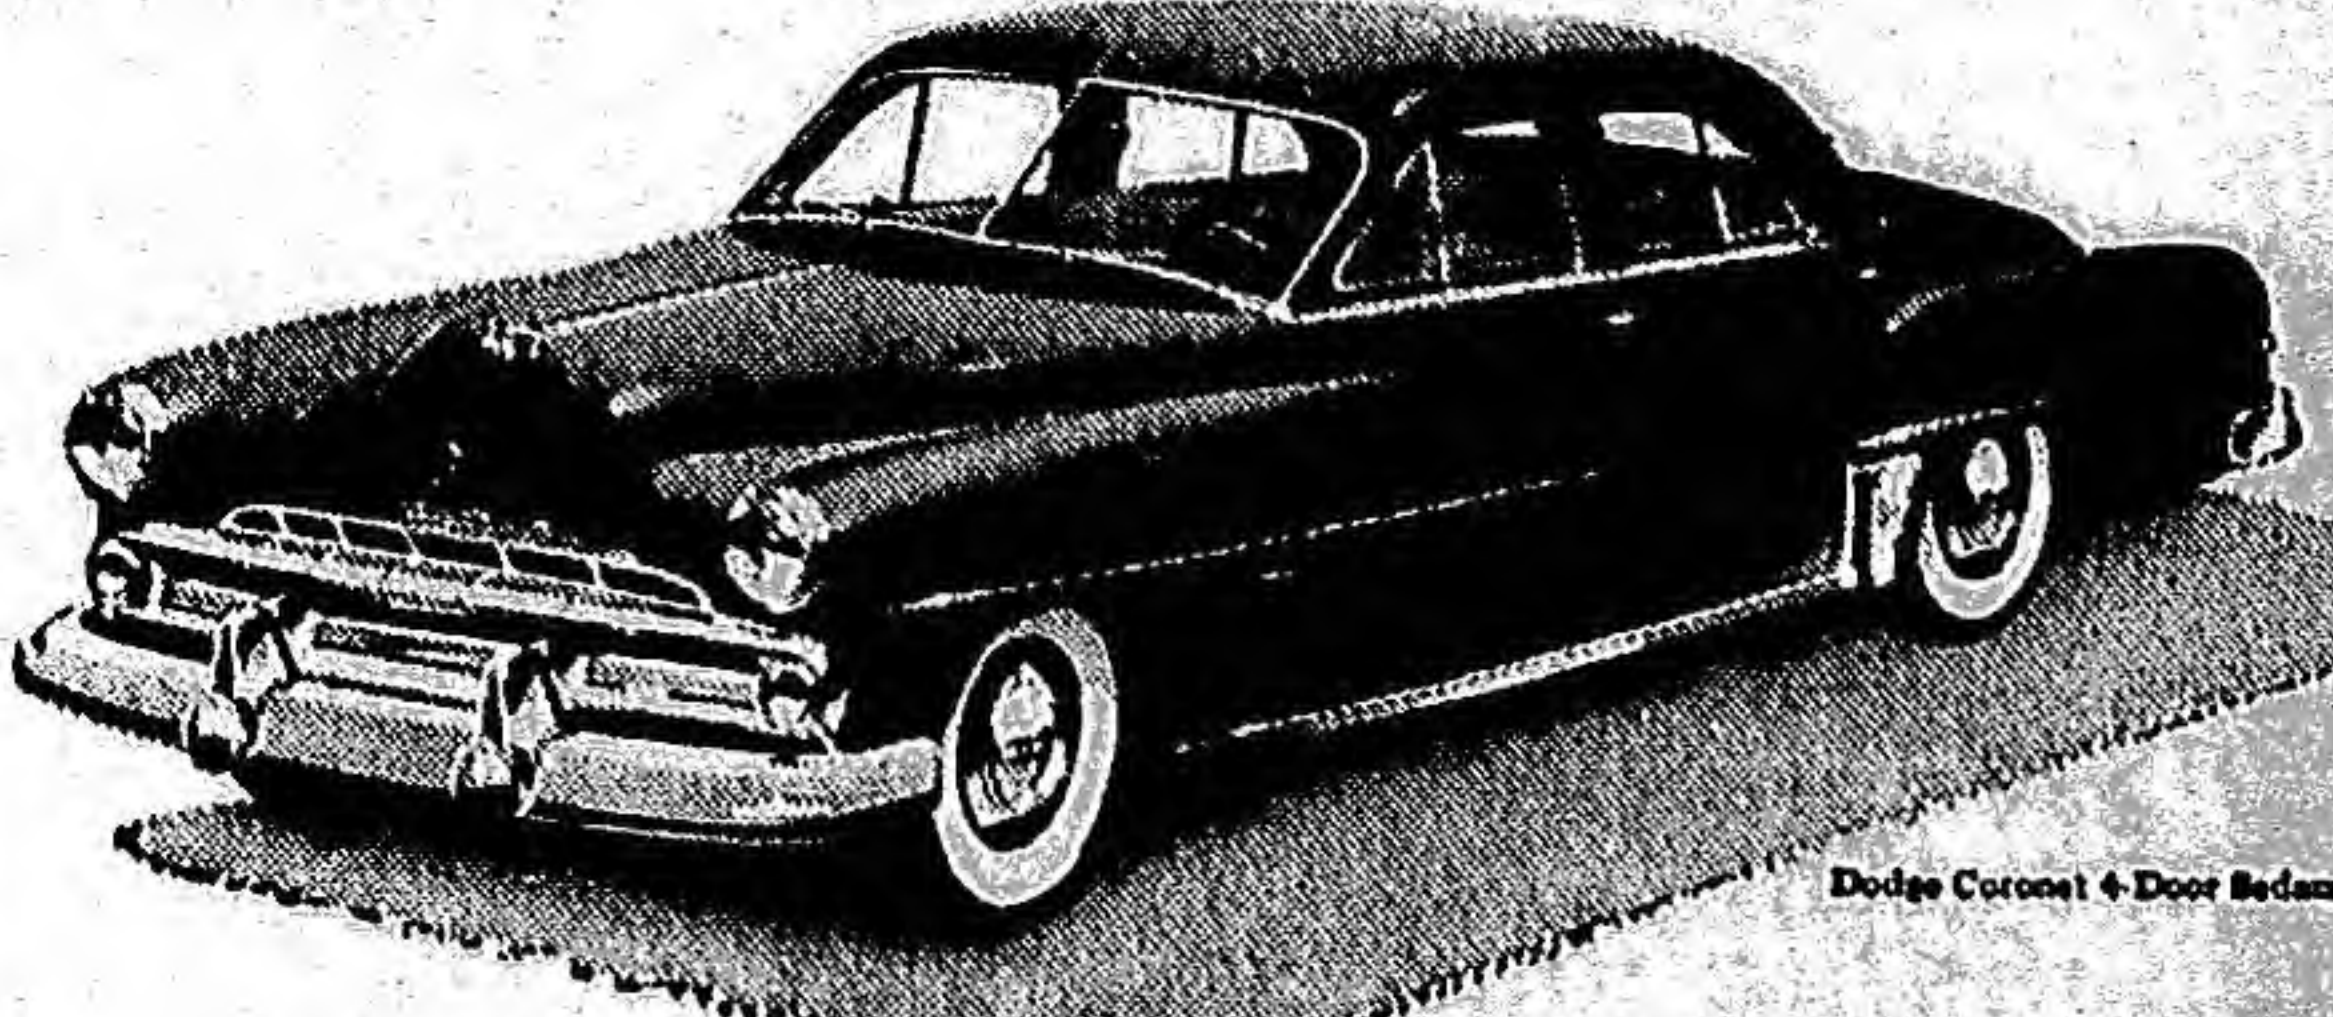

"Statistics Prove That You've 364 Unbirthdays A Year," the Mad Hatter informed Alice in Walt Disney's production, "Alice in Wonderland." With 364 days a year that aren't birthdays, there should certainly be an UN-birthday Cake to celebrate occasionally—even if it's for no particular reason at all. That's why SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR has developed an UN-birthday cake you should try. It's wonderful! Melting, fine-grained, light as a dream—but then, so is every cake made with Swans Down Cake Flour.

SWANS DOWN'S UNBIRTHDAY CAKE: Bake Devil's Food Cake as directed on back of Swans Down Cake Flour package, but use 2 deep layer pans—one 10-inch, one 8-inch. Line bottoms with paper, then grease. Cover larger cake with vanilla-flavored butter-type frosting. . . place smaller cake on top. . . cover with butter frosting. Melt 2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate and 2 teaspoons butter over hot water and blend. Pour slightly cooled chocolate mixture over the wet frosting on cake layers, letting it run down sides. Keep cake in cool place until chocolate is firm.

"My! This Is Good Coffee! What kind is it?" The answer to that question is more often than not—RED ROSE COFFEE! It's coffee that I can recommend heartily to you, for never, in several years of using it, have I had a coffee failure. Red Rose Coffee practically makes itself! Because it's quality coffee—it's always good, no matter how hurried you may be when you're making it. I like a coffee I can rely on for faithful good taste—that's why Red Rose is my choice. And you'll find that same Red Rose quality makes Red Rose Tea "tops in taste," too! And—because Red Rose Tea is good tea—it gives you more cups to the pound... its flavour goes a long, long way!

"HOME IS where the heart is" and a beautiful home is the background of all we have. We use it, live in it and love it. Sometimes the house is all dressed up when Mother takes out her best linen and china and puts flowers and candles on the table. Then the whole atmosphere is luxurious. We feel we must use our best manners too because it really is an occasion, and we are going to enjoy it to the limit. At this time she usually makes party food and, of course, that is another treat. Many a youngster has staggered from the birthday table all filled up and left with a warm happy feeling. Birthdays are synonymous with parties and parties mean ice cream and cake.

Watching It Grow
A lace tablecloth lends the beauty and distinction we all love and admire. It is easy to make and grows rapidly, one square at a time, and first thing you know you have the banquet cloth you desire. You also have the proud feeling of having made it yourself. In many patterns, you can join several medallions (square for this) until you have enough to form an individual place mat. As your number grows you can use them. When you have made enough, you can join them all together to make a tea cloth. A row of squares can be added until you have the cloth the size you planned, and at the same time, you can have the pleasure of using your work as you go along.

Irish Crochet
Irish crochet is one of the prettiest of all crochet patterns. It is rich and elegant, and looks lovely on any table. It adds greatly to your home and will give you a lifetime of pleasure. If you wish to make this IRISH CROCHET TABLECLOTH, a direction leaflet is available. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this paper and ask for Leaflet No. 7480.

YOU want it! WE have it! A slenderizing dress that is real fashion news! Draped shoulder-line plus a variation of the new chicken-leg sleeve give this dress a Parisian air. And that paneled skirt is so slimming!
Pattern 9201: sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 38 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch; 1/4 yard contrast. Embroidery transfer included.
This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated Sew Chart shows you every step.

ADJEY-WILSON

King United church was the scene of the marriage on Saturday, Oct. 13, of Anne Marie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Wilson, to James Phillips Adje, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Adje, Toronto. Performed by Rev. Martin Jenkins, the ceremony was held in a setting of white mums. Miss Gerry McDonald played the wedding music, and Donald Watson of Aurora was soloist, singing "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in rich ivory satin with lace panelling, which also formed the chapel-length train. The sleeves were pointed over the hand, and the gown had a narrow Peter-Pan collar. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was

News Of NEWMARKET LEGION

Over the weekend, our flag was draped, and a deep sense of loss was felt in the Legion. Comrade George Wales, a member of long standing, answered the call. Our tribute to Comrade Wales is expressed in the words of L. J. Humphrey's "Veteran's Passing":

"O, doff your hat and stand erect And set your thought on high. What's this procession I detect? A veteran passes by. 'Pass, noble man, to rest above, Answer, the Roll Call high; I know I owe you life and love, O Veteran passing by.'"
On November 5, J. E. Bays, Toronto service bureau officer of the Ontario Command, will be in Newmarket from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Any veteran in this community wishing information, advice or assistance regarding war disability, pensions treatment, allowances, etc., is requested to contact either Erby Thompson, secretary, or Wm. LaParde, pensions officer, to arrange an interview.

Some dates, comrades, to remember: Wednesday, Nov. 7, zone meeting at Stouffville; Thursday, Nov. 8, special general meeting; Friday, Nov. 9, town hall, amateur and variety show; Sunday, Nov. 11, Remembrance Day parade; Wednesday, Nov. 14, regular general meeting. Saturday, Nov. 10, is Poppy Day, and over 2,000 branches of the Canadian Legion throughout Canada will be asking the citizens in their respective communities to buy and wear a poppy. The price of each poppy is voluntary, and all funds over and above the cost of the poppies are retained by the local branch for the singular purpose of relief and essential assistance to deserving ex-servicemen and women.

The Legion bowling team seems to be holding its own at the top of the league. Del Pemberton and his 919 on a 3-game total seems to be a record in this town; at least we have no knowledge of a higher total. Before we close this column, we earnestly request each Legion member of Branch 428 to read "Observation Post" in the current October issue of "The Legionary."

Plan To Sponsor Clinics For Child Health Care

Plans to establish child health centres in York County depend on community interest, said Dr. Robert M. King, York County Health Unit director, expressing his hope that several new centres would be established soon in member municipalities. Local groups can help with organization, give volunteer help, and furnish needed publicity, he said.

Preliminary efforts are being made in Sutton by the Red Cross, and in Markham, Unionville and Stouffville by the Women's Institutes. The Health Unit will provide funds if a sponsoring organization will make local arrangements. Headquarters for the centres are usually in a church basement or Sunday school room, or in a community hall, Dr. King pointed out, stressing that the project was practical for the average community.

The service brings a public health nurse to the community one or two afternoons a month and she advises parents of infants and pre-school children. The emphasis is on prevention, and any sick child is referred at once to a physician.

A child health centre is already available in Newmarket, on the fourth Friday of each month at the York County Health Unit office, 126 Main St., from 1.30 to 4 p.m., and Dr. King is anxious for parents to take advantage of the help offered.

A public health nurse sees Aurora children at the Anglican parish hall on the second Friday of each month from 1.30 to 4 p.m. Although the centre has been built up on the foundation of earlier V.O.N. efforts, a sponsoring organization to carry on the work is very urgently needed, Dr. King said. Dr. King has presented the plan for child health centres to the York County Medical Society, who have given it enthusiastic sanction.

King City And District

COED, MRS. L. E. ROLLING, PHONE KING 3

First King Scouts and Cubs will stage a paper drive on Saturday morning, Nov. 3. Before that time five tons of paper collected in earlier campaigns will have been transported to the city to be sold, to make room for the incoming supply. The local depot is part of the garage at the United church manse. Once again the group committee of scouts and cubs, with the leaders, will set out in cars early on Nov. 3 to cover the surrounding district and the village. Householders and others are requested to have papers and magazines firmly tied with twine.

Showers for Joan Bice

Miss Joan Yvonne Bice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Bice of King, will become the bride of Mr. Earl Albert Robson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robson of King, on Saturday, Nov. 10. To honor the bride-elect, who has been a telephone operator at King, two showers have been held, one a gathering of about 25 relatives at the home of Mrs. Jim Davidson and her daughter, Mrs. Ron Robson, last week. On Monday evening in the United church rooms, a community shower was held, arranged by Mrs. Geo. Brown, Mrs. Len Robb, Mrs. E. Patton, Mrs. M. R. Jenkinson and Mrs. A. G. Green. The decorations were pink and white streamers, bells and a bouquet of salvia. Miss Audrey Brown assisted Joan with her gifts.

Group gifts were a green wool satin-bound blanket, a breakfast set, an electric toaster, a set of wall plaques and vase. Others were miscellaneous gifts. Refreshments were served to end a pleasant evening.

Brownie Pack Leaders

Await Meeting Place

Mrs. Marion Laing, Mrs. Jack Walker and Miss Fay Armstrong are awaiting word on a place to hold meetings of a Brownie Pack being organized in the King district. Mrs. Laing, the leader, has had Guiding experience and has made a study of Brownie work this summer. Mrs. Walker was interested in Guiding for 12 years in the Toronto-Runnymede district. Fay Armstrong, who is 18, left Guiding activities in Toronto only about a year ago. She was a patrol leader with the 94th Humeview school company, Toronto, and had been in Brownie and Guide work for six years. Miss Doris Patton has consented to act as treasurer for the local Guide association.

Over 30 years ago there was an active Girl Guide company at King, started by the late Mrs. Victor Hall. Lady Pellatt was the Guide commissioner for Canada at that time.

Miss Audrey Brown spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowntree, Kleinburg.

A party of 13 enjoyed a Halloween masquerade party at Kettleby hall October 24, given by the Community Association, of which Mr. Ross Shipley is president. All in costume, the "Lucky 13" group won eight prizes. Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, June, Kenneth and Audrey, Betty Cunningham, Ellen Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cutting, Allan Cutting, Albert Rowntree, Merle Wilson and Edna Ireland, were cleverly masked. It was 23 years since Mrs. Brown had been in masquerade costume, and her Kettleby relatives failed to recognize her.

Mrs. B. L. Wanamaker returned to her farm home at Port Perry last Saturday after visiting Mrs. J. L. Scott for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Scott returned home with her to remain until Sunday. The Wanamakers and Scotts had been former neighbors on Pepler Ave., Toronto.

Mrs. R. H. Benson and her mother, Mrs. Hay, motored to Detroit on Monday for a holiday there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fraser are back again in their house at the third concession, which they sold some time ago. The owners are not ready for occupancy for a time, and the Frasers are making use of the opportunity for the time being.

Miss Joyce Hatley was given a surprise birthday party by her mother, Mrs. George Hatley, at her home, Eaton Hall Farm, on Friday evening, Oct. 26, in honor of her 18th birthday. Twenty-five friends from Aurora, King and Toronto enjoyed an evening of games, dancing and a wicker roast.

Visitors of Mrs. J. L. Grew during the weekend were Dr. David Macintosh and his wife and their two boys from Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Ken King, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, Toronto, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong on Sunday.

Sister and Brother Die Within Week

Mr. Norman Ferguson of King lost his brother and sister within one week. Mr. Murdoch Ferguson, 67, manager of the North American Life, died suddenly at his Toronto home from a heart attack and was laid to rest last week in the old Stone cemetery at Beaverton. On Sunday, Oct. 23, Mrs. Christopher McIntyre, 71, of Woodville, was interred in that cemetery. She had been in poor health for the past three years and the shock of her brother's death hastened the end. The brother and sister were buried four days apart. Of 11 children in the family of Angus Ferguson of Woodville, who was of pioneer stock, one daughter and three sons are living.

Attending the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ferguson, their son Watson, and daughters, Mrs. Fred Curtis and husband, and Mrs. Chas. Gordon and husband.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. George Tetley, whose father, Mr. Walter Bregg of Toronto, suffered a stroke at his home, 34 Heydon Park Rd., early last Friday morning. The funeral was held on Monday, with interment in Park Lawn cemetery. Mr. Bregg is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Tetley and Miss Elizabeth Bregg. He was predeceased by two sons.

Persistent rains made it unwise to hold Kingcrafts meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Denton, 3rd concession, last week, and within a matter of three hours more than 77 persons had been notified by the telephone committee and assistants that the meeting would be held at King United church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jarrett, Toronto, visited their niece, Mrs. Jack Walker, on Sunday.

Many visits are being paid to "Kirkcraft", a handcraft shop situated four miles west of Brampton. It was recently opened, but closed for the winter months after this week.

Mrs. J. L. Grew, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. G. Wells, Mrs. F. Rath and Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty visited Kirkcraft last week. They are ruggers in Kingcrafts.

Valuable Tools Stolen

A tool house was broken into Sunday night on the property of R. H. Benson, King sideroad, and valuable hand tools, an electric skill saw, parts of three kegs of nails, building paper and bundles of shingles on the property were stolen. Value was estimated at $400. The lock on the door was jammed to gain entrance. The tools, many of them difficult to replace, belonged to Mr. Benson and Mr. Bert Eard, who are building the Benson new house near the third concession. Police Constable A. E. Houldsworth investigated.

Rugby Player Injured

David Wilson, 18, of King R. 3, Temperanceville district, received a fractured ankle during the first half of a rugby game between Aurora and Newmarket in the finals of the North York senior rugby league, played at Pickering College grounds, Newmarket, on Monday afternoon. A student at Aurora high school, Wilson plays centre half back for his team. Newmarket defeated the opposing team 8-5.

Legion Dances

A new venture for King Legion 438 will be weekly dances in Maple community hall. On Friday, Nov. 2, the first dance night will be staged, with the Harmonaires of Toronto providing the music.

Blooms Twice in Seven Months

A three-bloom Easter lily given to Mrs. Elias Bice at Easter time has been blooming again for the past three weeks. It was planted in the garden where three buds formed. When potted and brought indoors its flowers burst forth.

When All Saints' Anglican church hold the annual turkey supper on Nov. 7, the entertainment will be held in McDonald and Wells' hall, where the Department of Lands and Forests will show colored movie sound films, and vocal numbers will be supplied by Misses, Freda Dent, Shirley Rawlings and Norma Wells. The supper is in the church basement and the Masonic hall. Mrs. Len Robb is the convener.

Winter Fireside Gatherings

Following the evening service at King United church, Sunday, Nov. 4, fireside gatherings will be held in the Sunday school rooms during the winter season. One of the features will be hymn singing. Next Sunday Mr. H. G. Ratcliffe will show colored slides some of the scenes set on the farm of Aubrey Campbell, where the Ratcliffes had an apartment. Others will be views of their trip this summer to Nova Scotia and Cape Breton. Special features are being planned for each Sunday evening.

Everley Presbyterian W. A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Laura Rolling, on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 8 p.m.

King United W.M.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Ross Stewart, on the afternoon of Nov. 8.

New Organ for Toston Anniversary

On anniversary Sunday, Nov. 11, a new organ costing $1,475 will be used at Toston United church. A concert will be held on the following Wednesday evening in aid of the organ fund, of which more than $1,000 has been raised by the congregation.

Those Exclusive Pheasants

The first three days of the open season for pheasant and partridge, Oct. 25, 26 and 27, in King township, were without incident and no property damage claims were laid, according to police. Other years the hunt lasted two days. Hunters in regulated areas are allowed three cock pheasants per day.

There were probably 1,500 pheasants somewhere in the township, provided they all lived during the winter months. They were placed there by the province late last summer. Hunters appear to have all they could do to get their quota, said provincial game warden, George Armitage of King. Those who had dogs had the best results. He said 80 percent of the licenses were sold to outside hunters.

One reason given for the small bag is practice of some landowners to post their property just before the hunt. Fear of damage is the reason. The weather was ideal but nevertheless, the pheasant is an elusive creature. Police in Vaughan and Whitechurch townships said the hunts there were quiet.

Novice Wrestlers Feature

King City wrestlers won glowing praise at the first seasonal amateur wrestling meet in Toronto last Saturday night at the West End Y.M.C.A. Wearing their royal blue uniforms, King City Juniors appeared as the first Ontario organization to enter a major show at ages from 8 to 13. The lads showed no signs of nervousness, the result of their training under Coach Bob McLeod. They competed among themselves.

In the first bout, Roddy Bell and Donald Gordon tied. Glenn Judd won over Richard Chaplin in the second bout, and Bert Archibald and Bill Patton tied in the third performance.

A feature of the show in the regular bouts was the debut performance of Bill Brown, 17, leading with good style and balance, only to be suddenly pinned after two minutes' performance by his opponent, Ralph Bates of Scarborough. Bill's future as an "up and coming wrestler" was announced over the public address system by Olympic star, Harry Pearce, the master of ceremonies.

"I had a swell time," commented Bill, "and I would like to come into a show again with more competitors from King City." He was the only senior representative from his local club.

Tumbles Down Furnace Pipe

Mrs. D. M. Ross of King is suffering fractured ribs, sore chest and shock as the result of a fall at her home on Saturday. She tumbled down four feet in the heater pipe that leads from the pipeless furnace to the large register, in the living room. Repairs were being made to the furnace by her husband and son-in-law, Albert Holman of Aurora, and the register grate was removed at the time. Mrs. Ross was passing from the kitchen to the front door when she fell. Mr. Ross and Albert and Simpson's driver freed her from her uncomfortable position. It was the driver's rap on the door that Mrs. Ross was going to answer when the unfortunate accident happened.

Tractor Takes Life of Father of Three Children

Alex Isaacson, 52, of Vaughan township was instantly killed by a tractor on the Lord Beaverbrook farm, operated by Francis Powell, 2nd con, last Friday forenoon. A farm laborer, Mr. Isaacson was pinned beneath the tractor in a 6-foot ditch when it struck the laneway culvert, overturning on him. The help of a neighbor's tractor was required to move the heavy machine from the victim's body. Dr. J. P. Wilson, corner, said Mr. Isaacson's chest had been instantly crushed and one of his legs was fractured.

There was water in the ditch, but the doctor said Mr. Isaacson was so badly crushed by the weight of the machine he died immediately. The coroner does not think an inquest will be held. Surviving are the victim's wife, the former Pearl Robbins of Woodbridge, and three young daughters, Beverly, Carol and Gloria.

The funeral service was held on Monday in the chapel of Wright and Taylor funeral home at Richmond Hill. Interment was in St. Paul cemetery, La-moreaux.

Canadian Book Week

With Canadian Book Week near at hand, King Memorial Library has much to offer readers in current books published in 1950-51. In the opinion of the librarians and the book selection committee, they are all worth reading. They have been enjoyed by many in the community.

Canadian Book Week has been observed since 1922. Before the war there were often elaborate book fairs and exhibitions with speakers and dinners. Now an institution of national importance, it is interesting to note that 70 works have been published in Canada this year, according to the Toronto Globe and Mail. Many of these have reached an international audience.

To appreciate the present and future of literature and other cultural arts, it is suggested by King librarians that the Massey Commission Report be read. It is available in the local library. Then too, in observance of Children's Book Week, commencing Nov. 10, chief librarian, Miss Marjorie Jarvis is planning a special feature for the children of the neighborhood, a practice that annually stimulates young readers.

York County Juniors Compete At Guelph

York County Junior Farmer project club teams brought honor to their county in the recent inter-county contests held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, when teams of two farm young people from various clubs throughout Ontario competed for provincial championships, with the York Baby Beef Club team, composed of Sylvia Easton of Gormley and Brownie Weir of Milliken, winning that contest.

The teams had to judge four classes of beef cattle and give oral reasons for their placings, then go through an oral examination based on the production of beef cattle. Sylvia was only one mark below the highest individual contestant and out of a possible team score of 1040 York was 52 points ahead of the next team with 39 teams competing.

REPRESENT YORK AT O.A.C.

A provincial day for Home-making Club members was held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, the same day as the inter-county contest. Four girls were chosen to represent York County. They were: Aileen Easton, Buttonville; Phyllis Pegg, Belhaven; Marion Eves, Queensville, and Jean Brumwell, Victoria Square. Club members from various parts of the province put on demonstrations and set up exhibits in order to emphasize the qualities necessary to make any demonstration or exhibit both educational and interesting. Miss Heringa, of the horticultural staff of the O.A.C., demonstrated the art of flower arrangement and Dr. McCready, of the Macdonald Institute, conducted a tour through the home economics department.

Two dairy calf club teams from York were among the 47 clubs competing, and made a remarkably good showing, with the Markham team, consisting of Gordon Brumwell and Nelson Buchanan of Victoria Square, standing fourth, while the Woodbridge boys, Bob Beynon of Maple and Bruce King of Woodbridge placed seventh in the same competition.

These clubs, organized by the Agricultural Representatives' Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with local service clubs and agricultural societies, were supervised by E. K. Pearson, Newmarket, assistant agricultural representative for York, who also coached the teams. Mr.

Pearson is now planning a series of coaching classes for the Baby Beef team which will represent Ontario in the inter-provincial contests held in Toronto during the first week of the Royal Winter Fair.

Sylvia Easton is a student at Richmond Hill high school, and Brownie Weir at Markham high school. They will spend a week with teams from all the provinces, during which they will visit Niagara Falls and spend a day in Ottawa, where they and their coach will be received at Rideau Hall by the Governor-General, Lord Alexander.

ONTARIO—PROVINCE OF PROGRESS

Sane, courageous and efficient government contributes to the enduring welfare of a free and prosperous province. "Performance—not promises" is the keynote to Progressive Conservative leadership.

TO HELP THE PEOPLE

- Old age pensions to all over 70 under Provincial-Federal agreement.
- Pension for the needy, 65 to 70; to the Blind and disabled 18 years and up.
- Women guaranteed equal pay for equal work with men.
- No discrimination in employment because of race, colour or creed.
- 109 new hospitals or extensions provided.
- 14,474 hospital beds and bassinets added or being added in general hospitals.
- Fullness of science and medicine mobilized in war against cancer.
- Free school books for all children in primary schools; equality of opportunity.
- 1,150 new schools for 150,000 pupils.
- The most advanced labour laws; expanded compensation and rehabilitation for injured workmen.

TO DEVELOP THE PROVINCE

- Greatest plans for Highways and Roads in history.
- Trans-Canada Highway under construction.
- Grants for municipal roads multiplied nine times—now $27,000,000 annually.
- Two million Horsepower added to Hydro output serves 85% of Ontario's farms—"Back to Niagara"—a fact.
- St. Lawrence power development to commence.
- Farm income highest in history.
- Plans for modern telephone system for our rural people.
- Private and public rental housing speeded under Federal-Provincial agreement.
- Railway level crossings to be abolished by three-way plan.

TO CONSERVE OUR RESOURCES

- Forest wealth preserved as part of vast conservation program. 20,000,000 trees provided annually by Government nurseries.
- Canadian manufacture of forest products rather than export of raw materials.
- Development of mining resources—including huge iron deposits—aided by Government action.

TO PRESERVE GOOD GOVERNMENT

- Lowest provincial taxation in Canada.
- Provincial credit at an all-time high—eight consecutive balanced budgets.
- $100,000,000 in municipal grants to relieve local taxpayer.
- No provincial sales tax—no provincial income tax.
- Good relations maintained with Federal and all other Governments.
